Mayor refuses to give details

City director firing suppressed

By BOB AMEEN
ANP Staff Writer

Ed Fall, director of the Romulus building department, has been fired by Mayor William M. Oakley, but news of his termination has been suppressed for more than a month.

The Roman was apprised Wednesday by an employe in the building department that Fall was no longer employed by the city, but refused to give any details.

Asked that same day about Fall, the mayor commented, "It's a personal matter. I have no comment. You'll have to talk to Ed yourself."

Oakley refused to disclose whether fFall had resigned, been fired or asked to quit.

He did say, however, that he did not think that a news story about Fall's termination was important.

Friday, Fall said that Oakley had asked him to quit last Aug. 31, citing a lack of cooperation from Fall's subordinates.

"I told him to go to hell," retorted Fall.

He said he received a letter from the mayor on Sept. 5, just as he was about to go on vacation, informing him that he was being terminated effective Sept. 29. He said the letter was dated Sept. 1.

Fall said the mayor's letter commended him for his contributions to the city as director of the building department, but that "in the best interests" of Fall and the city, he would be discharged as of Sept. 29.

Fall also disclosed that last Aug. 16, the council held a special closed session to which Fall, his employes and the mayor were invited to attend.

"When the council found out that I had a tape recorder and that I planned to tape the meeting, they asked that I leave and I did," Fall explained.

Although he said he never found out the exact purpose of the council session, he learned subsequently that his employes had been grilled by some council members on himself and his activities.

"I asked the mayor about the council meeting the next day and he told me to play it cool," Fall said.

He said he had supported Oakley in the last mayoral election and had collected approximately $8,000 in contributions from his supporters.

Fall, whose wife now runs his former business, Ed's Mower Repair, formerly worked in the construction business as a job superintendent. He had been employed by the city for the last two years and nine months.

Fall said he had no immediate plans in regard to employment, but hoped to stay in the construction field.

Mayor had denied dismissal at hand

Romulus Mayor William M. Okley was asked by the Roman after Sept. 1 about rumors that Ed Fall, director of the city building department, was coming under fire by some council members.

At that time, he denied that he had any plans to terminate Fall.

However, Oakley sent Fall a letter dated Sept. 1 and which Fall said he received Sept. 5 informing him that he would be dismissed from city employment as of Sept. 29.

Last Wednesday, the mayor refused to comment on how or why Fall was discharged, saying the story could be obtained from Fall himself.

"After you talk to Ed, you'll probably come back and thank me for telling you to talk to him," Oakley said.

The Roman has learned that a special closed council session Aug. 16 attempted to delve into Fall's activities and background by the questioning of employes who worked for him.

Fall was asked to leave the closed session when some council members learned he planned to record the meeting on tape.

Friday, Fall said, "I'm not surprised at the mayor's action in firing me. It's probably for the best."

He said he did not feel that any pressure from council played any part in his dismissal by Oakley.

"I believe it was his decision alone. He hired me to serve at his pleasure and when he got tired of me, then it was his pleasure to let me go," Fall emphasized.

Proclaims National Business Women's Week

Romulus Mayor William M. Oakley signs proclamation designating the week of Oct. 14-21 as National Business Women's Week in the community. The occasion was first celebrated April 15-22, 1928 to dramatize the contribution of women to the business and professional life of the nation. Unhappy with city agent

New citizens group demands answers on senior high-rise

Dissatisfied thus far with the city's attempts to explain a proposed Romulus Senior citizens high-rise building a group calling itself Citizens Against Exploitation has presented a position paper to the mayor and council demanding more exact information.

The position paper was handed in at the council session last week (Tuesday). Council informed the group it would give them a special hearing date at its next meeting (yesterday).

Signed by Diana M. Burek, spokesperson, the position paper stated: "We ae appalled at the lack of information provided by Mr. (Leo) Sklar at the high-rise information meeting on Sept. 28, 1978 at the Romulus Community Methodist Church.

"We feel that Mr. Sklar's presentation of the facts was inadequate and not clear concerning the proposed high-rise structure. Yet, as city agent for senior housing, he apparently has te support of the mayor and council.

"It seems that there is a lack of communication between what is going on at city hall and the desires of the taxpayers of Romulus."

Because of what it felt was the "definite impact" that the senior citizens high-rise would have on city taxpayrs, the group listed questions it wanted answered.

Th position paper concluded with: "We are not against senior low-cost housing per se within the city of Romulus. But as reasonable citizens we demand to know all of the fact-srelating to any proposed project within the city that will directly or indrectly affect our homes, families, neighborhoods, taxes, property assessment, water and sewer bills, and our general wellbeing."

Brought out in discussion at the Sept. 28 meeting, Ms. Burek said, was that the proposed nine-story structure of some 200 apartment units was taller than the seven-story ldder which the local fire department uses to fight fires in multiple-story buildings.

The senior high-rise will be located on the grounds of the present Romulus Elementary School which was recently purchased by North Cranbrook Associates for the minimum bid of $200,000. The firm plans to tear down the school building and use only a portion of the school grounds.

However, the project has become a controversy among some residents of the community and reached a head when petitions bearing 100 signatures were turned in to council seal weeks ago protesting the construction of the senior building. That action was countered a couple weeks later when petitions with 140 names were given to council in support of the high-rise structure.

The list of questions and speifics which the group is demanding are:

1. The cost of this project to the taxpayers specifically in regard to:
   A. Sewers.
   B. Street lighting.
   C. Sidewalk construction.
   D. Street widening.
   E. Traffic flow and congestion.
   F. Police and security.
   G. Fire equipment and fire training programs.
   H. Hidden or taken-for-granted financial obligations.
2. The effect this structre will have on downtown Romulus:
   A. Does this structure fit in with the Master Plan of the city?
   B. Exactly where in this two block area will the high rise be located?
   C. How much of the remaining land will be used for parking and commercial enterprizes?
   D. Will this structure drastically change the residential atmosphere of the area?
3. Other qualified sites that the high rise could be located on:
   A. Has the agent for senior housing for the city of Romulus made a study of all possible sites?
   B. Exactly where are these sites:
   C. Why is it more advantageous to locate the structure on the site encompassing the property between Olive and Shook streets?
4. Taxable land:
   A. How much and to what extent is this proposed site and structure taable?
   B. How much taxable land is the city losing or gaining?
   C. Will this structure have any effect on county taxes for the residents of Romulus? If so, how much?
5. Who will live in this structure:
   A. Is it possible for low income families who are not senior citizens to rent in this structure?
   B. How many Romuls residents have signed up for residency?
   C. What must the financial status of a senior citizen be to qualify for residency?
   D. Is income the only determining rent factor?
6. What security will be provided for occupants of this structure?
   A. Is the city's present expenditure for law enforcement adequate or will more money have to be paid for police protection?
   B. What building security and parking lot security will be provided and by whom?
   C. What security will be provided for occupants of this structure?
7. The present shopping area in downtown Romulus along Goddard Road:
   A. Will the present stores remain or is it the intent of North Cranbrook Associates to buy the buildings and tear them down?
   B. Will the people of Romulus continue to have all of the present shopping facilities in downtown Romulus?
   C. If any changes are anticipate, what are they?
8. Funding which the city will be required to put up in order to secure federal funds for this high rise project.

Originally, the residents group wanted to put the issue of the senior citizens high-rise on the November ballot, but were told by the county that it was too late to start the procedure required.

Dance pavilion for community is turned down

A summer dance pavilion proposed for the southwest section of Romulus and previously rejected by the planning commission got the same treatment last week (Tuesday) from city council.

Counci members unanimously turned down a request to rezone a 12-acre site from M-1 (light industrial) to C-3 (highway services) submitted by Ernest McCausland. The pavilion site is located south of Eureka Road between the I-275 Expressway and the C & O Railroad.

Last Aug. 21, the proposal was defeated 6-3 by the planning commission, although its chairman, Don Treder, was enthusiastically in favor of the pavilion.

Also strongly backing the recreational facility was Hyle Carmichael, the cit's industrial coordinator and former mayor.

No discussion was held by council members on the pavilion proposal. One city hall spokesman, who wished to remain unnamed said he believed the recent rock concert held illegally in Huron Township had cast an unfavorable light on the project.

Although the concert's promoter has been cited with four violations for staging the event without a township permit, reports filtering back rom the area indicate sale of drugs, abusive language to nearby dwellers and rowdy behavior on the part of concert goers.

The pavilion envisioned by McCausland would serve liquor and patrons would dance on a sunken floor during the summer months for about 100 days in th year.

Treder said McCausland had told the planning commission that he would provide his own security guards, thus relieving the city of having to patrol the pavilion and nearby area.

Treder also disagreed with complaints that undue noise and heavy traffic would plague the area because the pavilion site is more than 1,000 feet from th nearest residence and close to the I-275 Expressway.

On weekends, McCausland had planned to rent the pavilion to large group activities in summer months.

Carmichael backed the pavilion because he felt that Romulus sorely needed a place where city residents could enjoy themselves.

Romulus, Huron get school funds

Three area school districts - Romulus, Huron and Van Buren - shared in more than $20 million in state school aid payments for the months of October and November, according to Sen. William Faust (D-Westland).

In addition to regular state aid funds, schools sharing in the vocational education funds will receive a hidden bonus, Faust said.

"The 13th State Senate District is one of a couple of senate districts to receive money this year for vocational education equipment. Since the money is lumped in with the regular vocational education funds, it cannot be determined exactly how much extra money each school will receive," the senator explained.

Amounts received by each of the three school district were: Romulus Community Schools - $702,980 in state aid and $5,779 in vocational education funds; Huron School District - $689,734 in state aid and $4,136 in vocational education funds; Van Buren Public Schools - $884,423 in state aid and $3,541 in vocational education funds.

State aid payments are made six times a year - the first day of October, December, February, April, June and August.

Is 'compromise candidate'

Weiser picked to fill Wayne council vacancy

BY TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Deadlocked for nearly a month over the issue of appointing a candidate to fill a vacancy, the City Council October 2 apparently found a "compromise candidate".

Nathan L. Weiser, president and owner of the Weiser Iron and Metal Company in Wayne, was selected to complete the unexpired term of Kenneth McKee.

McKee resigned September 1, stating that his profession as a business representative demanded more time of him. He also plans to move out of the city to Birmingham, according to close associates.

The 61-year-old Weiser who has lived and worked in Wayne since 1951 after moving here from Chicago was a late candidate for the vacancy.

The frontrunners during the month of September included Mrs. Christine Fargo, a Wayne County Juvenile Probation Officer who had three of the six votes and Manuel Lentine, former councilman and former city assessor for the City of Westland.

Weiser said he was surprised and pleased by the council's action.

"I think it is a privilege and an honor to be named to the council," Weiser said,

"Maybe some will view me as a 'compromise candidate,'", continued Weiser, "but I will be my own man and work for the betterment of all."

Weiser is a graduate of Albion College where he was awarded a degree in education in 1939. He also attended Washington University in Clayton, Missouri and received his masters from Albion in 1951.

Weiser will serve out the unexpired term which terminates in November of 1979.

Weiser's name was offered as a compromise candidate by Mayor Paul Lada who, in a letter to his colleagues dated Sept. 22, stated: "It is apparent to me that the selection of a Council person from among those currently being considered is not likely.

"So, in the spirit of compromise, I am submitting the name of Nathan Weiser for consideration...Offering a new person for consideration should not be construed as a put-down to anyone previously considered."

Weiser's credentials are impeccable. He has served as a charter member of the Industrial Advisory Board and is presently serving on the Executive Board of the Wayne Economic Development Corporation. In September of 1966, Weiser was elected to the Board of Directors of the Wayne Federal Savings and Loan Association and after their merger, continued to serve as a director of the advisory board.

He was honored as an outstanding Rotarian in 1977 and for his service to the community, Weiser was awarded the "Paul Harris" award. In May of 1977, Judge John C. Seiler of the 29th District Court in Wayne, presented the Liberty Bell to Weiser in Law Day ceremonies for outstanding service to the community.

Last June, Weiser was also honored at a "Chai" dinner, (Chai means life), by the Livonia Jewish Congregation and Sisterhood, for 18 years dedicated service.

Weiser's wife, Norma, also is active in civic and local affairs. She is a member of the Human Relation's Commission and the Housing Commission.

Bike Day to close parkway

There still is time to give the old bike a real work out before it is stored away for the winter.

The Wayne County Road Commission has set aside Saturday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. for its fourth Bike Day of 1978.

This "rain or shine" event is the last of four bike days supported by State Rep. Robert Law, local communities and local fund raising organizations. It will take place in the Middle Rouge Parkway along Hines Drive on an 11½-mile stretch starting at Ford Road in Dearborn and ending at Haggerty Road in Plymouth Township.

The area will be closed to all motorized vehicles. Parking is not permitted down in the park itself, so it is suggested you ride your bike to the scene. Refreshments can be obtained along the bike route.'

Program looks of owl lifestyle

Owls and their lifestyles will be covered during a 1½-hour program to be held at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Oct. 20 at 7 p.m.

Owls are not wise or intelligent as they are often depicted in children's stories. They are, however, one of nature's finest "hunting machines" and are truly adapted to the night. This program will discuss the role of the owl in nature and its adaptations through slides and mounted specimens. Tapes will be used after the indoor session to try to attract local screech owls.

Advanced registration is required as are vehicle entry permits.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

FIRE SAFETY TIP

Fire safety is a factor to consider in selecting the type of insulation to be installed in a home.

Mineral wool, either fiber glass or rock wool, is inorganic and won't burn. However, the paper or foil facings on some batts and blankets are flammable and should be covered after installation.

Cellulose insulation, which is made of paper, must be chemically treated to be fire retardant. Boric acid, the preferred chemical, is in short supply, and substitutes may be used. In any case, Underwriters Laboratories says that treated cellulose "will continue, under unfavorable conditions, to smolder and glow."

The National Bureau of Standards says urea formaldehyde foam is combustible but presents no excessive risk of fire.

The Federal Trade Commission considers that improper installation of cellulose and cellular plastics insulations "poses substantial safety hazards that must be disclosed in the marketing of the product."

Action only token gesture

City to probe proposed new jet runway

The city of Romulus formally went on record last week against the building of a new east-west jet runway at Metro Airport and directed its attorney to investigate such proposed expansion.

The action was contained in a resolution from Mayor William M. Oakley and passed unanimously by council at last week's session.

The action followed release of information last week that the Wayne County Road Commission, which runs the airport, is expecting a study now underway to recommend a giant new runway to the south of and parallel to the existing east-west runway at Metro.

The citys's action may amount to nothing more than a token gesture since past opposition by Romulus to airport expansion has been more or less ignored.

A suit filed by the city in 1974 opposing construction of the last runway at Metro is now before the U.S. Court of Appeals. The new runway was finished last year.

Oakley refused to comment further on the matter at this time, saying that he plans to give that information in a future newspaper column carried on the Roman's editorial pages.

"The city wants to find out what the airport plans are so it can be in a position to know what to do."

However, Clerk Leonard J. Folmar volunteered, "The city wants to find out what the airport plans are so it can be in a position to know what to do. They city wants to be able to present to the its citizens why the airport expansion is needed or not needed."

The resolution passed by council indicated that future expansion at Metro would increase the chances for accidents at the airport, thus boosting hazards to citizens of Romulus.

Further, it called "presumptous" the announcement last week of a new jet runway in view of the study now being done to determine needed facilities at Metro.

"The city of Romulus has no evidence which would, by any means, supprt the necessity to expand existing facilities..." the resolution stated.

The resolution concluded that the lack of "supportive evidence" and ignoring of eventual findings by the study underway prompted a probe by the city's attorney.

City officials apparently were surprised at last week's information that the county was considering a new jet runway. Two meetings with road commission and city officials present where held recently to praise the general public of airport plans and to gather input from residents of the city.

Metro Airport, which occupies some one-fifth of the city's total land area, long has been a bone of contention with city residents, especially those who live near the huge facility. Complaints are perenially registered on the noise, traffic and general inconvenience caused by the air terminal by city residents, many of whom feel the airport should pay more taxes.

A bone was thrown to the city earlier this year when it was proposed that the airport's name be changed to reflect the city in which it is located. The poroposal has lain dormant before the road commission and the Wayne County Board of Commissioners since then.

In brief--

Rishel benefit nears

A benefit dance, featuring music by "Soft Touch," a light finger meal, door prizes and refreshments, will be held on Friday, Oct. 20 from 8 p.m. until midnight at the Romulus Progressive Club, 11580 Ogza Rd., near Five Points in Romulus.

Tickets for the evening's entertainment are $7.50 per person, with all proceeds going to the Elaine Rishel Medical Fund Trust.

Elaine is an 11-year-old Romulus fifth grader who recently underwent a kidney transplant to correct a rare kidney disease. The dance is being sponsored by a group of concerned neighbors. For tickets call 941-1928.

Seniors to aid fund

Romulus senior citizens have joined the drive by local residents and groups to contribute to the Elaine Rishel medical fund-trust.

Seniors will hold a bake sale Friday Oct. 13 at the Romulus branch office of the Manufacturers National Bank. All proceeds will go to the Rishel fund.

The 11-year-old Romulus girl underwent a kidney transplant operation last July which resulted in medical expenses that her family could not meet.

The bake sale will begin as soon as the bank opens for business.

Strasser recuperating

Clayton Strasser, plumbing inspector with the Romulus building department, is recuperating at home following a stroke he suffered Sept. 24.

He was released from Wyandotte General Hospital Oct. 2 and was reported resting comfortably at home where he can receive visitors. He has been employed by the city of Romulus for six and a half years.

Jr. Golf Classic Oct. 21

The third annual Autumn Jr. Golf Classic will be held at Carleton Glen Golf Club on Oct. 21, with tee times starting at 9:30 a.m.

Thirty eight high schools have been invited to send four-man teams. Individual high school golfers are also being invited.

Trophies and awards will be awarded to teams as well as to individual seniors, juniors, sophomores, and freshmen.

Since only a few high school golf teams can participate in the state tournament, the Autumn Jr. Golf Classic is designed to give all high school golfers an opportunity to participate in a season ending tournament.

Carleton Glen Golf Club is located six-and-half miles southwest of Flat Rock near Carleton.

Voter education seminar to explain tax amendments

On the November general election ballot, Michigan voters will be faced with several tax decisions that will directly affect their children's education.

While education is one of the largest expenses in the state budget, it also is one of the greatest needs of Michigan's young people.

Would each of the three tax proposals provide adequate funds for the operation of schools? Can parents be responsible to make sure these tax reforms measures will result in schools that are more efficient and responsive to children's educational needs?

The Kids Committee of the Van Buren Schools (formerly the Citizens Advisory Council) will sponsor a Tax Reform Voter Education Seminar at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Belleville High School, located at 555 W. Columbia, Belleville.

Present for the seminar will be R.J. Lytle, author of the school voucher system proposal, as well as Ken Nyquist, a proponent of the Tisch tax relief proposal, and a representative of Taxpayers Limited, proponents of the Headlee tax limitation proposal.

Each speaker will be given an opportunity to explain their respective tax reform proposal. Questions from the audience will be aired during the seminar, and reading materials about teach proposal also will be available.

Because the Kids Committee is committed to parent participatation in the public schools, child care (babysitting) services will be available and will be provided by the high school's economics-child development classes.

Those participants living outside the Van Buren School District should exit the I-94 Expressway at Belleville Road and travel south to Huron River Drive. Motorists then should turn right on Huron River Drive. The high school is located on the left side of the road at Columbia Avenue.

Historical Society to meet

The newly-formed Romulus Historical Society will have as its guest speaker Wednesday, Oct. 18, Mrs. Mildred Hanchett of the Wayne Historical Society.

Mrs. Hanchett will tell how the new group should set up its organization and how to collect artifacts and documents which pertain to the history of Romulus.

The meeting, which will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Romulus Public Library in the civic center complex, hopes to attract persons interested in joining the society, according to Mrs. Pearl Varner, member.

She said persons who do not come to the meeting, but who are interested in helping the society, are urged to drop off items of historical value at the library.

Eventual goal of the Romulus Historical Society is to set up a museum in a specially designated building once sufficient historical items are collected, she said.

Pretty lass conquers computer

Lois Gilstorff, attractive blonde billing clerk in the Romulus water department, recently finished with an excellent rating in the use of the Burroughs B-80 computer. The new electronic marvel will replace three existing billing machines, resulting in a lower overall data processing cost and greater capabilities in the area of citizen service. The B-80 will further streamline billing of water and sewer accounts, all at the hands of its new master, Miss Gilstorff. (Photo by Jay Young.)

New Boston church marks its 100th date

St. Paul Lutheran Church of New Boston recently celebrated its 100th anniversary with a dinner and sermon by its former pastor, the Rev. Walter Gienapp of Warren.

Rev. Gienapp served the New Boston church from 1946-1958 and was one of only four ministers serving as pastor from 1901. The Rev. Henry G. Schuessler was pastor from 1901-1940, the Rev. Harold Bernthal from 1941-1946 and the Rev. Daniel Richert from 1959-1977.

Since April 29, 1878 when 12 men signed the first church constitution, St. Paul Lutheran Church has grown steadly and now has a congregation of some 1,100 members.

On Sept. 24, 1950, the church dedicated its present building.

Following Rev. Gienapp's two Sunday sermon services last Sept. 24, a litany of consecration was read responsively.

Continuing Ed goes to hospital

The Wayne-Westland Community Schools will be taking its continuing education program to Northville State Hospital this fall.

The deal between Northville Public Schools and Wayne-Westland, cemented by board resolution Monday night, is the latest scheme in Wayne-Westland's current campaign to increase its student enrollment.

The district administrators have been beating the bushes to expand its continuing education enrollment, as it faces declining enrollment in its regular kindergarten through 12th grade population.

It was only two weeks ago that the district announced it had struck a deal with St. Mary's Catholic School in Wayne, whereby the district would take over academic instruction of the children and thereby be able to count part of each student in its enrollment figures.

The arrangement approved Monday night allows Wayne-Westland to go to Northville State Hospital and run continuing education classes for residents there. The Northville district signed the agreement to transfer the total responsibility to the Wayne-Westland Schools.

According to Deputy Supt. Dennis O'Neill, Wayne-Westland hopes to enroll between 350 and 400 students, and thereby increase the student count by about 100.

Since continuing education students can be counted only as part-time, taking instruction perhaps only once or twice a week, they are counted only by using a "full time equivalency" (FTE) formula.

The district has conducted a similar program in the past at Wayne County General Hospital's Eloise psychiatric facility. Two district employees who ran that will be in charge of the new assignment. Teachers will be hired on part-time basis to teach the classes.

The district's objective is to increase that total student count. That brings more money to the district in two ways. First, it brings in about $960 per student in state aid. In a larger sense, when additional students increase the total number, then it works out that there is less local wealth to support the education of each student. That means the state will supply more money to educate each child.

It looks like Wayne-Westland is going to need these extra students to bring into alignment a very tight budget this year.

The fourth Friday student count last week produced a tentative head count of 20,243 students in kindergarten through 12th grade and special education. That is 57 less than projected, and the projection was 950 less than last year.

Important figures that are still not in are the number of continuing education students. It is hoped and projected that continuing education will add at least another 1,800 students to the enrollment number. It is in that category that the St. Mary's and Northville students will be counted.

The administration is currently putting finishing touches on the budget for the 1978-79 school year. That business department has been using the "optimistic figure" of 23,000 as the enrollment, said O'Neill. And the district admits it will be hard pressed to reach that number.

The public hearing on the budget, which must be adopted by Nov. 1, will be at 6 p.m. Oct. 23, at the board offices, 3712 S. Williams in Wayne.

If the shoe fits...sit in it!

In an attempt to make baby carriages more appealing, George Clark took out a patent in 1884 for a carriage designed as a very fancy high-top shoe, complete with laces and an umbrella. While the idea never really caught on, a stroll past the baby carriages on exhibit in Henry Ford Museum, Dearborn, Mich., shows the great variation that was acceptable in that form of transportation.

Stein 'grounded' on plans to create helicopter patrol

Canton Township Supervisor Harold Stein's goal to make a profit by providing helicopter service came crashing down Tuesday night.

Township board members, with the exception of Stein, unanimously agreed that the earlier purchase agreement to buy three army surplus helicopters should be rescinded.

After learning that the purchase was potentially an illegal one, if the choppers did not make it to the air within one year of the purchase, board members decided against the concept.

The facts appeared to be against Stein.

First, he earlier said that he was not going to spend any money on the program unless the township could win a federal Law Enforcement Administration Assistance grant.

Then it was discovered that the federal agency was not receptive to funding helicopter programs. It was also learned that the filing deadline for application was Oct. 1, and that the application did not meet qualifying criteria.

So without the grant, the choppers' purchase, at $500 each, would be grounded.

And if grounded, the federal government would be forced to repossess the merchandise within one year of the purchase. A 1977 regulation that stipulates the choppers must be bought and used in 12 months time.

Stein apparently did not know of the new rule. Even so, he was reluctant to let go of the chopper concept when faced with the regulation.

'I do not believe there is any grant...'

Embroiled in a heated debate at the board meeting, Stein said that he still favored the helicopter purchase and that he was not trying to steer the township into trouble.

"I am not trying to deceive you. I am not lying to you. I just told you what I learned," said Stein.

The actual resolution rejected by five board members called for the board to purchase the helicopters for storage until it would decide to utilize them or sell them for a profit.

Trustee Lynn Goldsmith and candidate for treasurer Maria Falkiewica put forth the "cons" of the purchase agreement, saying that until Tuesday, citizens were only hearing the "pros."

"I do not believe there is any grant." said Mrs. Goldsmith. "I do not believe the program can be put into effect with a year, and I think it's a waste of tax dollars."

Still pursuing his helicopter program, Stein brought to the board Tuesday night an outline of a chopper service.

His idea is to supply six neighboring communities with the air patrol. He even believed that other Western Wayne County community leaders favored his idea.

He conceded that not one community official was willing to state how much, if any, support for the program would be monetary.

"I don't believe that those people say what you say they've said," charged Mrs. Goldsmith. "I don't believe they'd be willing to support the program considering that Wayne County's helicopter service will be cut in December because area communities wouldn't help to support it."

Stein responded that he still believes in the program, and himself.

"I believe I did the best I could. I believe in the helicopters."

Editorial opinions

Don't judge book or a club by its "cover"

For many years, we at Associated Newspapers have been impressed with the apparent contradiction which exists between the names of organizations and their function.

For example:

Within Western Wayne County, there exists many organizations for the promotion of special interest. One of those organizations called the 'such-and-such Democratic Club.'

How that name was ever chosen remains a mystery. Democracy has not been practiced by the groups for years.

In Westland, the Democratic Club was noted for its ability to stuff ballot boxes, rig internal elections, and practice the fine art of 'power politics.'

In Wayne, the Democratic Club was noted for its dedication to democratic priniciple through breaking into locked buildings, power hungry cliques and more 'power politics.'

In Romulus, the Democratic Club became the mouthpiece for one candidate's campaign to gain the mayor's seat, and not one democratic priniciple remained untrampled.

In Belleville-Van Buren, the Democratic Club has displayed its dedication to principle by refusing to allow members to propose rule changes. And when those rule changes are supported by a majority of the voting members, they are dismissed as not being conclusive.

Yes it is ironic that the principles of democracy have made such little progress within the clubs boasting the same name.

Of course that is to be expected when the clubs are modeled after the 'perfect example' of democracy in action, the large union.

For years, the 15th District Democratic organization was ruled and run by John Canfield. Canfield, like those who came before him, and those who have followed, ran his meetings according to Canfield's Rules of Order.

For insiders, it was obvious that you simply could not conduct a meeting without limiting input from members. Unfortunately, or fortunately, however you may look at it, that limit on input seemed to always exclude anyone with an opposing viewpoint.

When, on occasion, the opposing view was expressed, club puppets would shout down the person expressing that opinion, in the finest tradition of free speach.

Fortunately, the Democratic Clubs no longer have a monopoly on supplying candidates for public office.

At one time, the local club was a necessary rung in the ladder to ellective office. Any person aspiring to office had to first garner the support of the Democratic Clubs power clique. Only then was it possbile to successfully run for election.

It is little wonder then that the quality of candidates for office in the past was considerably lower than it should have been.

Today, the clubs which bear the name of our lofty guiding principle of government, no longer exercise absolute control over the elective process. Today, those clubs have become narrow vehicles for 'tunneled vision' special interest.

We feel that the demise of the Democratic Club and its hackneyed Tammany Hall style political leaders brings more potential for democracy to our communities than any other recent development.

While we would be the first to promote a real community interested organization, few are currently in operation. Those which do exist, such as Romulus' 'WE the People', receive little support from those associated with the so-called Democratic or Republican Clubs.

And that's too bad.

But so long as you do not judge a book by its cover or a club by its name, little real damage will be done.

Secret meeting not worth its final cost

Two weeks ago, a Romulus resident filed suit in Circuit Court to enjoin the City Council from holding 'secret meetings.'

That suit was the result of a meeting which occurred on Aug. 31, called by Mayor Oakley for the purpose of discussing the drive to unionize city employees.

Last week, the plaintiff in the case, Ed Rush, brought to the Roman, a partial tape recording of that meeting.

Listening to that tape is an excursion through legislative confusion, poor advice, bad judgment, and most likely the commission of an illegal act.

In the two years since passage of the 'Open Meetings Act,' many elected officials have taken the position that you're not wrong unless you're caught.

Well in Romulus, City Council has been caught.

Apparently no one at city hall has taken the time to study provisions of the law relating to public meetings. If they had done so, the conversation about erasing the tapes and closing the meeting would not have been necessary.

Tisch-Headlee-Voucher or "Tislee-vouch"

By GARY OWEN
State Representative–22nd District

Michigan voters will, in November 7, election, be confronted by a record eleven state-wide ballot proposals, involving many important issues, and several complex ones.

All of these ballot proposals will be in addition to the election of candidates for numerous public offices.

With so many decisions to make and such a lengthy list of proposals, some voter confusion is understandable.

In an attempt to assist voters and soften some of the confusion, the Secretary of State's Office is preparing large placards to be posted in each voting precinct. The posters will outline the contents of each of the elven state-wide proposals. The actual question, as it appears on the ballot, also will be printed on the placard, along with a sample ballot indicating how the voter should mark his or her preference. Since most of the proposals involve amendments to the Michigan Constitution, the poster will indicate the section of the Constitution that would be changed. The ballot itself will contain only the question on the proposal.

The Secretary of State's Office does not specify as to whether the informational poster will indicate the section of the Constitution that would be changed. The ballot itself will contain only the question on the proposal.

The Secretary of State's Office does not specify as to whether the informational poster is to be outside or inside the voting booth. If inside, voters may be hard pressed to read all the information, since the time limit for individuals to remain in a voting booth is two minutes.

The poster idea has merit, and should be helpful, but it is a last-minute effort to inform voters.

Each person's vote on the ballot proposals should be informed and carefully thought out, with both sides of the issue considered before stepping into the boting booth.

It should be noted that anyone who is 60 years old or older is automatically entitled to an absentee voter ballot. They are easy to obtain and give a person plenty of time to study the ballot before voting.

There will be three tax proposals on the November election ballot. Seemingly, they conflict with each other. What happens, therefore, if all three are approved?

The three, all of which would amend the State Constitution to alter Michigan's tax system, are:

— The "Headlee" amendment, which would limit increases in state spending to increases in total state personal income;

— The "Tisch" amendment, which would cut property taxes in half and permit a one percent increase in the state income tax; and — The so-called "voucher" plan, which would eliminate property taxes as a means of financing schools, shifting the entire burden to the state, and provide parents with state "voucher" payments to pay for attendance at any public or non-public shool.

Under Michigan's 1963 Constitution, if two or more conflicting proposals are approved by voters, the one receiving the greatest number of votes goes into effect. Unfortunately, the Constitution does not specify what constitutes a conflict, and that lack of a definition could throw the entire problem into the courts.

There have been various studies of the three tax proposals, and the impact of approval of all three by the voters.

One such study was released very recently by the Senate Fiscal Agency. It said, in effect, that the three proposals are basically compatible and could take effect together if they all pass. However, the study did predict confusion, practical problems and difficult policy decisions in working out conflicts between the plans.

It noted that each proposal has at least one section which partially conflicts with another section of one of the other proposed amendments, but that the proposals are "basically compatible and could generally be administered concurrently."

Another study, by the House Democratic Research Staff, sees legal and practical conflicts between the three proposals which would be difficult to sort out, with "a lot of questions and no answers."

For instance, while the Headlee amendment limits state spending, the voucher plan mandates increased state funding for schools. While the Headlee proposal limits property tax increases to the rate of inflation, the Tisch amendment allows increases in property tax assessments of no more than 2.5 per cent a year.

Those are just two areas of apparent conflict. There are others. Another study, by the Taxpayers United Research Institute, sees no contest between the three amendments, but it does note that approval of the Headlee amendment would prevent a Tisch tax shift from occurring unless approved by voters.

Meanwhile, the Executive Office has announced that a special commission will be appointed before the November election to deal with conflicts that may arise if all three proposals are approved.

State officials say there is no "self-executing" mechanism to sort out conflicts and decide the problems, indicating the final answer will lie with the courts.

It is possible that supporters of the proposals will make the court challenges of one or both of the other proposals. As a last resort, state officials could seek either a court solution or an attorney general's opinion if faced with implementing voter-approved proposals which they consider in conflict.

The tax propositions are three of eleven statewide proposals that will appear on the November ballot. The Headlee amendment will appear as Proposal E, the School property tax-voucher amendment as Proposal H and the Tisch amendment as Proposal J.

The 'Fourth Estate'
—On its passing

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

The subject was: Is Freedom of the Press under attack?

The location: Ann Arbor Press Club, University of Michigan.

The audience: More than 50 editors and publishers of Michigan newspapers.

The conclusion:

Yes. The Press has recently suffered court defeats which, if carried to logical conclusions, could very well mean the end of the 'Fourth Estate'.

So what? Who cares?

Well in the long run, those people who have advocated this current trend, may well be the largest losers when the final chapter is writen.

It would bean impossible task to outline within the confines of this space all ramifications of recent court decisions, but suffice it to say; unless the courts of this country quickly come to their collective senses, the door will have been opened to abuse of power at the precise instant that our last restraint of that abuse had been eliminated.

Last week, the Supreme Court decided that a reporter cannot protect his sources if those sources are demanded for either the defense or prosecution of a criminal case. Even if that source provided only information available to everyone, the source must be identified. That ruling will effectively eliminate the protection of confidential sources by reporters thereby eliminating the sources.

Had the Supreme Court made this ridiculous decision prior to 'Watergate', The Washington Post's 'deep throat' would never have provided the information which ultimately resulted in the exposure of wrongdoing at the very top of government. Nixon would still be president, and his tapes unerased.

Last May, the Supreme Court brought down an equally ridiculous decision in the Stanford Daily case.

The court ruled then, by a five-to-three vote, that police could burst into a newsroom and search for any 'information' related to a criminal case.

The court declared open season on reporters' confidential sources notes, tape recordings, photographs, internal memos, or anything else on the newsroom premises.

It requires no imagination to imagine the ramifications of such a ruling prior to 'Watergate.'

Nixon's people would have had a field day with the Washington Post and any other newspaper foolish enough to print stories critical of his Imperial Presidency. While law exerted only minor influence on the actions of Nixon's friends, even that restraint would have been removed. It is not difficult to picture our country's newsrooms as occupied territory, in the event that another Nixon happens on the scene.

A logical question to ask is, why? Why has the Supreme Court decided to break with the past and place the very concept of a 'Free Press" in jeopardy?

Many in the newspaper business feel that recent court decisions reflect nothing more than the judiciary's desire to become more than just an independent branch of government.

According to Mr. H. Friedheim, Executive Vice President of the American Newspaper Publisher Assn. "A few judges seem to want not an independent judiciary, but an imperial judiciary - a judiciary which would bend and beat our citizens' press freedoms into service, not of the public, but of the courts and the law enforcement agencies."

We should all hope those on the bench who entertain notions of imperialism will remember that the last time one of our coequal branches of government assumed imperial pretentions, the checking and balancing was both quick and effective.

Trustee outlines Harry Martin stand

Editor:

After reading comments in last week's Belleville Enterprise regarding the Township Board's request for Harry Martin's resignation as Chairman of the Van Buren Public Safety Commission, I would like to comment to the voters on my stand on the issue.

I feel the members of the Board who voted to ask for H. Martin's resignation did so with the belief that this action was in the best interest of township residents.

I was extremely concernd by the original wording of the controversial Van Buren Township police rules and regulations.

While Harry Martin may not have been entirely responsible for the wording of these regulations, as Chairman of the Public Safety Commission he had a responsibility to see that the recommended rules and regulations were legal and in the best interest of all residents of the community.

However, some of the recommendations were inappropriate.

This coupled with the recent conflicts between Martin and Police Chief Willett, the resulting publicity for the police department and the low morale among police officers led me to believe Martin's replacement on the Public Safety Commission was essential.

The comments in last week's paper attributed to Joe DiDia, regarding UAW influence on the Van Buren Board Members who voted against Martin are ridiculous and should be treated as the "sour grapes" they are.

Didia sought, and did not receive UAW support, in his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic nomination for township treasurer.

Reader lauds publisher's column

Dear Mr. Willett:

I appreciate your "Thoughts from the Publisher" in the last issue of "The Romulus-Roman" in regard to Dr. Gerald Davies.

We too were deeply touched by his death.

Dr. Davies was used by God to save the sight of our son when he was only four months of age. That's when we learned of Dr. Davies and what a wonderful doctor and person he was.

Our boy is in kindergarten now (with glasses) and leading a normal life because of the skill of Doctor Davies and the grace of God.

There are many parents and children who will forever be grateful to have known him.

'Good morning, George'

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

My kids have an uncle who lives with us who thinks that George (our dog) can talk. Uncle 'G' comes down in the morning, peers out of the window and then turns to the dog who is happily sleeping on the sofa.

"Good morning, George," he says, peering under his bushy white eyebrows and over his glasses. "How are you this morning George? Want to go outside George?"

Naturally the dog ignores him.

Now that dog has done some wondrous things in the ten years he's lived with us, but one of those things is definitely not the ability to talk.

"He can't talk," I'll tell Uncle.

"Eh," he says and laughs to himself while he goes out to the kitchen. By this time George has stretched himself, thrown off a few more black and white hairs to liven up the sofa and turn on the allergies of most of the family, and sautered out behind Uncle.

"Want something to eat, George? Where's your leash, George?" and on it goes far into the day. Sometimes Uncle 'G' gets the dog and me mixed up and is likely to say, "Going swimming, George?" when it's me standing there with a bathing suit on. Sometimes he's been known to try to put the leash around my neck.

"Stand still, George," he will say and it isn't until I start barking that he realizes that I'm not George.

It hasn't taken my grandchildren long to realize that their beloved old uncle doesn't know half the time, whether he's talking to their grandmother or to the dog.

And so it had to happen.

Mike, the venturesome one, came in one day after school to find Uncle 'G' standing in the middle of the room talking to the dog who was scratching fleas on the floor in front of the sofa.

"Want to go outside, George?" Uncle 'G' was saying. It was too much. Mike slipped behind the sofa.

"Want to go outside, George?" Uncle 'G' said again, and from the vicinity of the sofa came a high, shrill voice.

"I don't want to go outside. It's cold out there."

"What's that, George?" The eyebrows didn't even quiver. "It's 60 degrees out.

"But it's raining, and I don't like rain," the voice wailed.

"It's only misty," and Uncle 'G' stooped to pat the dog who still had his nose buried in his shoulder, the better to catch a flea with.

"I want you to go outside," came the voice.

"Oh, I'll go outside," said Uncle.

"Take your umbrella," urged the voice.

"Heh, heh. I'll do that for you fella."

"I'll meet you on the front lawn."

Uncle 'G' took his umbrella and went out to the front lawn, chuckling to himself. That's when I though I should take a hand, so I ran out to tell him the kids were playing a game on him and to come on in the house. But I didn't get a work out.

"See George, I told you I'd wait for you," he boomed. "Where's your leash, fella?"

Well, what would you have done? I gave him the leash ... and barked.

'R-r-r-radio reflections'

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

The response from readers to last week's column on radio is both gratifying and overwhelming. Evidently, there are a lot of people out there who remember, or perhaps more accurately, like to remember the golden age of radio.

As a lad, I attended the Robert Burns grade school in Detroit School, as I recall, was dismissed around 3:30 each afternoon. When I'd finished my duty as a safety patrol boy, I'd dash the seven blocks to my home (today, at age 45, I couldn't dash seven steps without getting winded) and settle down in front of the radio to listen to several 15-minute shows so popular just before and during World War II.

Most of these shows were sponsored by breakfast cereal companies, and they were always offering some gadget or another which would let you, as an owner of one of these items, be privy to all that was happening in the show's inner circle.

I can still hear it, "For only one Wheaties box top and a dime, you will receive a geunine (they were always genuine) Jack Armstrong flashlight, or magnifying glass, or code ring."

Well, if you went to school without the latest Jack Armstrong gadget, you just were out of it. I wonder how many mothers were driven to distraction by their young sons badgering them for yet another box of Wheaties in the house so that the lad might stand with head high in front of his peers?

Besides Jack Armstrong, I can remember I Love a Mystery, Don Winslow of the Coast Guard, Sgt. Preston of the Yukon, Little Orphan Annie, and many, many others.

These epics were generally about the same in their story line; i.e., the bad were always punished for their transgressions, and the good lived happily (at least until the following week) ever after.

Those were simpler days, and perhaps that's the reason so many of us like to engage in nostalgia. The things which we worry so much about today had not yet surfaced to prick our collective consciences.

It was a nice, neat packaged world of black and white; good and bad; moral and immoral. You really didn't have to make any serious judgments — you always knew that those dirty rats who held up the widow Brown would surely get theirs.

Hence, I think radio adventures provided an umbilical of comfort for so many during those bleak years of the great depression. With perhaps one-third of the Country's work force without employment, Lord knows something was needed for just a few hours, to take peoples' minds off of the misery surrounding them.

And the same comfort was needed during World War II.

Husbands and sons were being destroyed in places which until the 1940's most people never knew existed.

But Madison Avenue even snuck into the way. Prior to the hostilities, Lucky Strike cigarettes were sold in a dark green package. Then some wise ad man, and you almost have to salute his ingeunity, came up with an idea. Luckies were sold in white packages, the same packages you see today, and the commercials which blared from the radio said, "Lucky Strike greens have gone to war!" Holy smokes, you felt that if you didn't smoke the new Luckies you were unpatriotic, or at the least a fifth columnist.

And boxing. Well professional boxing and radio had a long and honorable marriage. In those halcyon days of Joe Louis, Detroit's Brown Bomber whose real name incidentaly is Joe Louis Barrow, a fight being broadcast on the radio was the excuse for some one to have a group of friends over for a party.

Unfortunately, it was usually a very short party because the radio introduction of the fighters took more time than Joe did to dispatch his courageous, but I fear slightly insane, opponent.

For a few years after the war ended, radio continued to broadcast fights. It was always on Friday night, and the fights came from either St. Nick's Arena in New York City, or from the old Madison Square Gardens.

We'd gather in front of the radio, a bowl of popcorn at our elbow, and if we were lucky, there would be a bottle of Pepsi Cola: in those days you could buy a six-pack of Pepsi for $.25 — that's right, twenty-five cents.

We'd hear Bill Stern or Don Dumphy describe the ring action. If a fight went the distance, we'd either applaud the decision or boo; we'd been so taken up with the description offered by the sportscaster that we actually thought we were there and thus competent to make a judgment. That was the power of radio. You'd listen, half day dream, and by golly you were there.

This rambling about radio for the past two weeks in this column has been fun. But in truth, as great as I remember radio, I have to admit that TV is indeed superior in many respects.

For instance, the manned landing on the moon could never have been covered as well by radio as it was by TV. In that great moment of history, everyone who could wanted actually to see the event.

But for its time, I'm convinced that radio did more good for this Country than anything before or since.

Long live the Lone Ranger.

Wayne councilman questions Tisch tax relief claims

At least one Wayne Councilman believes that the Tisch Tax Reform Amendment which will appear on the November 8 ballot isn't what it appears to be.

Tisch says it will shift the burden of taxes from the homeowners to "big business".

However, that's not what Councilman Milton Mack Jr. concludes after studying the proposal.

Mack told the Council Tuesday night that Tisch creates the illusion of a tax bonanza in the form of relief, but in the "long run we'll be paying more for less service."

The articulate young lawyer pointed out that the large corporations would benefit if Tisch's proposal went into effect.

"If Tisch's passes, the total property tax cut in Wayne County would be approximately $378 million," said Mack, "but the total benefit to the top 10 taxpayers - including Ford Motor Company, Detroit Edison, General Motors, Chrysler's, Great Lakes Steel, Michigan Consolidated, McLouth, Dayton Hudson, BASF Wyandotte, Renaissance Center would be about $89 million or almost 25 percent of the total tax cut.

"The repercussions are obvious on the local taxpayers and communities," Mack continued, "they would have to dig deeper to make up the difference in some way or form.

"Though your property tax would be cut in half," Mack added, "there would obviously be a corresponding decrease in local revenue and a loss of credit on your federal and state income tax and since the state would have the right to increase its tax from 3.56 percent to 5.6 percent, you can see that the average person isn't going to benefit from this amendment.

"Also, the Tisch proposal also permits a 1 percent income tax subject to the voter approval," Mack pointed out.

What does this mean to the typical renter or homeowner in Wayne?

"It means a net increase in taxes, however, since most of the increase will now go to the state and fails to make up the deficit created by tax cuts for industry, it would mean a drastic loss of revenue for local governments which translates into, "Pay more...for less."

Mack also stressed that passage of Tisch will mean "less local revenue and more state revenue which means loss of local control of goverment and forcing the community to be more dependent upon the state.

"When state control comes, it comes usually with an assortment of undesirable strings," he added.

Westland approves winter tax of 5.25 mills for drains

A winter tax levy of 5.25 mills was approved Monday night by the Westland City Council. The millage represents a Dec. 1 tax bill of about $80 to homeowners living in houses with a market value of about $30,000.

Although there was some hope a few months ago that the city could reduce that tax bill by modifying the engineering on a new large drain, the millage turns out to be exactly the amount first proposed by Mayor Thomas Taylor in his budget in April.

The winter city taxes are levied to pay the cost of retiring bonds bought to build large drains in the city. The most expensive item this year is the Hunter-Leng Drain, which will be built through the south-central part of the city and cost an estimated $12 million. That drain alone accounts for 3.74 mills of the tax. An earlier figure was quoted at 3.41 mills, but Finance Director Robert Matzo explained that he used his normal procedure of adding a 10 percent delinquent tax cushion. That added tax to make up for delinquents won't be needed after this year, however, once a county revolving delinquent tax fund gets into operation.

In addition to the taxes for drains, the winter tax bill for Westlanders contains school taxes (a large chunk of the bill), county school taxes, Wayne County assessments and community college levies.

The bill is dated Dec. 1 and due by mid-February.

SUFFERING NEEDLESSLY?

Millions are turning to chiropractic because they are recognizing the scientific principles of nature that have made spinal adjustments effective for many conditions where other methods have failed.

SPINAL NERVE INVOLVEMENT CAUSES MANY CONDITIONS

The spinal chart shown above is directed especially to those people who have tried to regain their health through methods other than chiropractic, and have failed. That failure should not lead to discouragement, but to greater determination to discover the fundamental cause of all disease.

Since the discovery of chiropractic, no one needs to feel that he or she is destined to be sick all their life. Remember, "Where there is life there is hope and he who has hope has everything."

To accommodate parents

Health department extends immunization clinic hours

The Wayne County Health Department is expanding its immunization clinics to accommodate those children whose parents may be receiving school exclusion notices.

The new Public Health Code provides that children whose immunization schedules are not up-to-date shall be excluded from classes until such time as the vaccines have been administered.

The first exclusion date for Wayne County is Oct. 17. Parents who have received a notice from the school must see that their children are immunized before that date in order for them to attend classes. Provision is made in the law for the child not to receive vaccines, if there are medical contraindication to the vaccines, or for religious or other reasons. However, the parent must go to the school to sign a statement to this effect. It may not be sent by the child.

Dr. Perry Stearns, health officer and medical director, and Dr. Jane Polkowski, director of communicable diseases, said the extra immunization clinics will take place at both the Taylor and Eloise site every Tuesday and Wednesday, concurrently, from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m. Oct. 11, 17, 18, 24 and 25.

Parents who are unable to take the children to the evening clinics may go to additional special clinics on Saturdays. These will be from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Taylor and Eloise sites on Saturdays, Oct. 14, 21 and 28.

The new law calls for all children entering a Michigan school for the first time to be immunized against diphtheria, pertussis (whooping cough), tetanus (lockjaw), polio, measles and rubella. Health officials urge vaccine also for mumps as this can be included in a combined shot with mealses and rubella.

Dr. Polkowski said: "With Michigan leading the nation in measles and rubellaand second with cases of mumps, we urge all parents to check their children's immunization records. If you are not certain of your children's records, call us and we can help."

Parent apathy or lack of knowledge is believed by health experts to be a part of the cause of the high incidence of these diseases in Michigan.

"We also strongly suggest," concluded Dr. Polkowski, "that parents of junior and senior high school students check their records. A large percentage of measles have been found with these older students and they may be spreading the disease to younger children. There can be serious complications from all seven of these so-called 'childhood' diseases. We offer these extra clinics to help keep our children healthy."

Out-Wayne County contains 35 school districts with 400 elementary students affected by the new law. All of these districts will exclude inadequately-immunized children.

Vaccines at the health department clinics are given free of charge. Regular childhood immunization clinic hours will continue in addition to the extra hours at the Taylor center from 4:30 to 8 p.m. Tuesdays and 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. Friday (call 287-2400 for further information) and at the Eloise site from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m., 1 to 3:30 p.m. and 4 to 8 p.m. (Wednesdays only) on Monday through Friday. That center can be reached by calling 274-2800.

Driver skills aired

The "Older Driver Refresher Course," designed to provide the older driver with skill and knowledge to drive safely, will be offered cooperatively by Schoolcraft College and the City of Northville Housing Commission beginning Thursday.

Instructor John Weisher will present topics which appear to be most important to the needs of the experienced older driver. Drivers will discover ways to compensate for age-related changes. Clarification of the new international road signs, understanding "defensive driving" and reviewing correct intersection procedures are among subjects to be included.

There is no road work offered in this program, which was developed by the Institute of Gerontology, University of Michigan.

The class will meet for five Thursday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. at Northville City Hall Council Chambers, 215 Main St., Northville. Parking is available in the rear and on the west side of city hall. There is no charge for the program.

To register, or for further information, call 591-6400, ext. 409.

TIPS FOR HOMEOWNERS

A tip on adding insulation to an attic floor: Use batts or blankets that don't have a vapor barrier, which is a layer of heavy paper or foil on one surface. A vapor barrier might trap moisture within the old insulation.

If the vapor-barrier-type is all that is available, slash the barrier freely with a knife. Then install the insulation with the slashed side on the bottom.

If no insulation already exists, thick batts with a vapor barrier should be laid between floor joists with the vapor barrier down.

More tips are available in a 24-page booklet, "How to Save Money by Insulating Your Home." Send 30 cents to National Mineral Wool Insulation Association, 382 Springfield Ave., Summit, N.J. 07901.

PCHA usage rises

A financial summary of operations for fiscal 1978, which ended June 30, recently was presented to the Board of Directors of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA).

Luther E. Lawrence, PCHA director of fiscal affairs, Sept. 28 told the board that despite the difficulties inherent in bringing a new hospital—Heritage in Taylor—into the authority, PCHA achieved an overall occupancy level of 78.3 percent for the fical year.

Lawrence said the authority was able to increase the bed-days available by 39,719 (13.51 percent) as Heritage gradually opened its beds to a full complement of 241.

"Our service to outpatients and emergent patients increased by 13,336 or 7.41 percent," he said, "and this figure totalled 193,370 people served."

In terms of full-time equivalent employees, average employment increased from 2,695 to 3,237, under budget by a little better than 1 percent.

Luther said the total people costs — salaries, wages, fringe benefits — put back into the PCHA communities amounted to more than $48 million during the fiscal year.

According to Lawrence, the latest figures on operating costs, published by Blue Cross-Blue Shield of Michigan and which include the first six months of operation of Heritage Hospital, show the state average 4.52 percent higher than PCHA's costs and the average for hospitals in southeastern Michigan 18.06 percent higher.

In other matters, the board heard from the administrator of Outer Drive Hospital, Arthur H. Sugarman, on the introduction of industrial medicine service at that Lincoln Park hospital.

A basic rate structure has been approved by the board, which also determined that initially, physician services would be provided by the current Emergency Room medical staff, assisted by ancillary staff already in place at Outer Drive Hospital.

The board also authorized submission to the Michigan Department of Health, Division of Planning and Construction, on notices of intent as required for several proposed projects, including an expansion of the PCHA central office, establishment of a centralized electronic data processing system, the lease of interim space for the centralized EDP system, allocation of appropriate space at Heritage Hospital for an ambulatory surgery service, the set up of an ultra-sound service at Seaway Hospital and the implementation of a home care service at the Heritage Hospital. The board approved agreements between the PCHA and several colleges and universities for the continued use of PCHA facilities in providing clinical experience for students in nursing and social work curricula. The schools involved are Eastern Michigan University, Wayne State University, Schoolcraft College and Wayne County Community College.

PCHA is the largest hospital authority in Michigan, providing 1240 beds in its five hospitals — Annapolis in Wayne, Beyer Memorial in Ypsilanti, Heritage in Taylor, Outer Drive in Lincoln Park and Seaway in Trenton.

Cantonite enjoys his high flyer

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

The kit was mailed to him by jet some three years ago. Three years later Andy Smith is still at work constructing a one-of-a-kind, homemade helicopter.

The Canton Township resident found no use for Krazy Glue, paint brushes or alphabetically connecting parts. Instead he has stuck with the mail-order kit, containing unwelded, unmolded pieces of sheet metal and believes he's just about to get the spare-time project off the ground.

"It's not like putting a model airplane together," Smith said, "This type chopper has to be over 50-percent handmade — from scratch — to be certified for flying."

After three years of bending sheet metal, casting and wrapping insulation, and laminating the blades he has set his sights on spring for the first official take-off.

Now the project only experiences marginal ups and downs.

Lately he's been seen by passersby along Michigan Avenue and Haggerty road hovering 25 feet or so over the ground at his garage. It is there that he's testing his self-taught basic flying skills, mainly take-off.

Smith admits to being proficient as an airplane pilot, but transfering the same operating procedures to choppers is not an accepted practice according to the federal aviation agency.

Ninety percent of flying a helicopter, according to Smith, is learning how to balance the chopper while in flight.

"It's like learning how to balance a ball in a swimming pool, nothing like flying a plane," he said.

Many friends, logically so, ask him why he's chosen the chopper route instead of a familiar one — that being of simply purchasing or renting a small airplane.

But flying from airport to airport only to look forward to flying to another airport is stale and bordering on boredom to Smith who sees more advantages and adventures to be found with his chopper.

"With a helicopter you can take off from your backyard and fly to anywhere you want and not have to worry about having a runway to land on." said Smith.

With chopper transportation, Smith can take off from Canton and glide into the backyard of his cottage in Brighton. He won't have to face the 1,000 foot from the ground restriction that other aircrafts must abide by, which means more accessibility to more places.

If he chose to, or was forced to an emergency landing, the chopper could safely fall without causing damage, he said.

In a daring mood he says he may even decide to land on the lakefront's dock at the cottage.

Although he says a week doesn't go by without friends from the area and interested parties from within and out-of-state stopping in at the garage to take a peek at the homemade project, his family stays somewhat aloof.

His sons haven't taken an interest in the project, and he's still in the process of coaxing his wife Rosemary to be his first passenger.

Nonetheless he says his interest is enough to keep him in grubby clothes and under the almost-finished contraption both nights and on the weekends.

Until spring, the project is an on-the-ground conversation piece. After that, the sky's the limit.

Halloween myths aired

A program, entitled "Halloween - Season of Superstitions", will be presented at the nature center of Kensington Metropark near Milford on Oct. 25 at 7 p.m.

This program is not for the faint of heart or un-escorted children.

There will be a charge of $1 per person. Vehicle entry permits — annual regular, $5, senior citizen, $1, or daily, $1 — are required.

Advanced registration is required.

For information or registration contact the nature center at Kensington Metropark at 685-1561 (Milford).

To battle builder

Canton homeowners unite to protect investments

By CARRIE YOUNG
ANP Staff Writer

United they stand. If not..., divided they fear their home investments may fall.

"It's as simple as that," confirms George Vollman. The Canton Township homeowner is leading a united effort to force Koss Construction Company into attending to needed repairs on newly built homes in the Mayfair subdivision.

The irate group have a list of "a", "b," and "c" strategy moves to speed the builders.

"We've been told that they plan to leave the site and head for Troy in November," said Vollman, "and we intend to take action before that. Once they leave they say they're not coming back. It's too expensive for them too, they say."

The first plan of action is already past the drafting stage with a letter demanding action being sent to the builders. Response time requested is 14 calendar days, and if the builders decide not to respond, Vollman says "watch out."

If need be, the homeowner say they will stage a picket formation at Koss's new construction site in Troy, hoping to put a dent in their business and to gain attention their own cause in Canton.

But that's a last resort, as is court action.

They ultimately hope to convince Koss to give homeowners full authority over a skilled crew of workman, supervising the workers until the complaints are satisfied.

"It would be different if it was just an isolated case," Vollaman, "but it's everybody. We're all having troubles."

The list of complaints ranges from minor gripes about dried glue left on the drywall, to insufficient insulation (in some cases none at all in ceilings), to faulty plumbing bringing raw sewage into homeowners basements.

Coupling the repair complaints, neighbor Ed Paule also believes that Koss Construction may be guilty of false advertising.

He has difficulty understanding how young builders (both under the age of 32) can honestly advertise that they've been in business for over 30 years.

Apparently Ken and John Koss, brothers, re-incorporated their father's 30-year business two years ago, according to the state licensing and regulations department.

"But we were given the impression that we would be dealing with the father who has a very good reputation as a builder.

Another false advertising charge by the homeowners is that the homes, although advertised to be custom-built, are in fact subdivision, tract homes.

"John (Koss) says he'll let you decide on the types of door or brick you want. But to me that's not custom building. Custom building is when you have your own property and you help figure out what you want your home to look like." Vollman said.

Neither of the Koss brothers were available for comment.

Vollman stands in his laundry room where hot air is blowing. There is no laundry vent. He looks down at the floor where the builders had to dig up faulty plumbing, and points to the rafters in the family room where the insulation is only half of what we was told it would be.

He glares, "and my problms are minor compared to....."

Ribley named to board

Dr. Charles E. Ribley has been chosen by Gov. William Milliken to serve a four-year term on the seven-member State Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

The board is responsible for the licensing of all new chiropractors in the State of Michigan.

He served as president of the Michigan Palmer Alumni Association in 1972-1973. He has been a member of the International Chiropractor's Association since 1960.

For the past eight years, the doctor has been an associate lecturer for the Life Foundation in Atlanta, Ga., and has served as a member of the Board of Trustees for the Life Foundation since 1975.

The Bible has the answer

The following question-and-answer column is supplied by The Rev. Ronald Elie, pastor of Zion Missionary Church of Belleville. Those readers with questions for the pastor can contact him at Zion Missionary Church, 89 Edgemont, Belleville, 48111.

Dear Pastor Elie,

I have heard that all the saved people will some day live in one heavenly city. How can so many people live in one city? Would we not be packed like Sardines?

Claustrophobia Betty,
Willis

Dear Betty,

The Bible has the answer. This city is bigger then any you have ever dreamed of. For the most beautiful description of any city you have ever heard, read Revelation Cahapter 21. Here you will read in Rev. 21:16: "And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, 12,000 furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

It is like a cube (a toy block), 1,400 miles in each direction. Betty, you would not be crowded if there were forty billion people in the city, more than 13 times the present population of the world. Many believe that if all the people who ever lived were saved, there would be plenty of room for them in this city. However, the scriptures make it clear, that only a few will be saved.

Matt. 7:13-14: "Heaven can be entered only through the narrow gate! The highway to Hell is broad, and its gate is wide enough for all the multitudes who choose its easy way. But the gateway to life is small, and the road is narrow, and only a few ever find it." Betty make sure you take this narrow road — it will be more than worth it. This Heavenly City is too good to miss.

Police seek further clues in Oct. 2 party store holdup

Wayne police went, over film last week in hopes that it will help them identify an armed robber who held up a party store early Oct. 2.

Police said that the robber, wearing a nylon-stocking mask, hit the 7-11 store at 32324 Annapolis around 2:30 a.m. and escaped with an undetermined amount of money.

An employee was working alone in the store when the robber walked in. The victim said the man approached and whipped out a gun and announced the holdup.

The robber ordered the employee to hand over the money in the till and after receiving the bills he apparently was dissatisfied with the loot and said: "Give me the money in the tray."

After stealing the money, the robber ordered the employee to lie on the floor and not to move. He told the victim, "you better not call the police."

The employee told Wayne police that he didn't see a getaway vehicle but that the masked robber was a white male, carrying a small blue steel revolver. The gunman was in his early 20's, approxinately 5-8, medium built and wearing a zipper-type jacket.

"We're hoping that the store camera will have the film that can lead us to this robber," said Ray LeCornu, director of safety for the city. "This is the first armed robbery we have had in our city for some time.

County seeks expanded funding of out-county nutrition program

The Wayne County Board of Commissioners is urging the expansion of the Out-County Senior Citizens Nutrition program from five days per week to seven days.

"Seniors don't stop eatin on Saturdays and Sundays," said Wayne County Commissioners Kay Beard of Inkster and Thomas Presnell of Westland), sponsors of a resolution that would expand and improve the federally-funded nutrition program to meet the needs of some 350,000 senior citizens in Wayne County.

The Beard-Presnell resolution was unanimously approved by the Board of Commissioners at its Sept. 7 meeting.

In addition to the seven-day-a-week expansion, the resolution calls for increased state and federal funding to provide 1,000 additional hot noon meals every day for out-county senior citizens who are "now being turned away at the door because the county isn't given enough money to buy food to meet the demand."

"Our No. 1 priority is to get a special appropriation from the U.S. Commissioner on Aging so that we can provide these additional meals," Beard said. "Among those 1,000 seniors are approximately 500 homebound seniors who have been on our waiting list for home delivery for months and months. We are doing everything possible to see that their needs are not ignored or neglected — or placed at the bottom of the totem pole in Washington."

The act expires Sept. 30, and a U.S. Senate-House Conference Committee is presently reviewing the proposed legislation.

The board has supported the proposed legislation that calls for a national nutrition appropriation of between $430 and $475 million for fiscal 1978-79.

"The bill earmarks approimately $80 to $100 million for home-delivered meals; which is, of course, one of Wayne County's greatest needs," Presnell explained.

The commissioner's resolution also urges that six new nutrition sites be set up to handle the increased demand — and provide better access for the elderly. The county now has 47 site locations in suburban Wayne County, including the core cities of Highland Park and Hamtramck and the Grosse Pointes. About 3,000 seniors are served daily. Donations of 50 cents per meal are requested of those who can afford it, but are not required.

Beard said the resolution also seeks increased funding from the Michigan Legislature for its 1978-79 appropriation for services to the elderly.

"We also are pleading with the State of Michigan Office of Services to the Aging to modify their administrative guidelines to increase the percentage limitation for homebound deliveries from 15 to 20 percent," she emphasized.

Skateboard park 'rolls' into Westland's future

Skateboard season may be just about over for most youngsters, but next summer promises a whole new challenge to skilled experts of the sport.

A skateboard park will be built on Cherry Hill Road, just west of Newburgh, by developers Sam Dorchen and Joseph Giordano.

The Westland City Council gave the project site plan approval Monday night.

Although such approval is not usually required, the council had rezoned the land for Giordano back in the spring on the condition that he bring in his plans.

City Planner Dale Farland described the proposal as having an "air supported structure" enclosing it, rather like a "bubble" similar to the enclosure over the Silverdome stadium.

The construction device will give the park a longer season. Usually, such outdoor parks can be open only during the warm and dry months, and hours would have to be more restricted.

The skateboard park would consist of concrete routes, with slopes, curves, tunnels and flat surfaces. Most youngsters now do their skateboarding down driveways and in streets, as the "sport" becomes more and more popular.

Proponents of skateboard parks say they are safer, well supervised, and a recreational asset to a community.

Their placement in the community is the hard part, since nearby residents tend to reject the use because of noise and other problems.

The location of the Westland park is ideal for that reason, city officials decided. It is located between the Chessie System railroad tracks, and the indoor roller rink called Skateland.

The site plan produced Monday night shows the course set back from the road, with much of the site's natural vegetation preserved to provide a landscaping buffer between Cherry Hill and the park. Trees will also remain standing between the railroad tracks and parking lot, and near the park itself, said Giordano. A fence will be put up between the development and railroad tracks, and around the whole site.

The council had been quite concerned that the park would cause extra traffic congestion on Cherry Hill in an area already having its traffic problems.

To alleviate that situation, the developer proposes to install both a deceleration lane for ingress and egress to the park, plus a passing lane, or "go-around" lane on the opposite side of the street when eastbound cars turn left into the park.

About a year ago, the same developer had wanted to put a similar skateboard park on the opposite side of town, on Ann Arbor Trail. The council rejected that idea because of various concerns, including the traffic congestion, nearby residential areas, and closeness to Hines Park, a youth "hang-out."

The new plan is considered much better as far as location and surrounding land uses. It will be located on 12 acres of land.

Oakwoods Metropark: See panorama of Fall's colors

This fall explore the wonders of nature of the nature study area of Oakwoods Metropark, located five miles northwest of Flat Rock. Both the nature study building and nature trails are open year-around.

The nature center building, overlooking the Huron River, features seasonal exhibits. Naturalists are on duty to answer questions or explain special features. Visitor hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekends; and 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Mornings are reserved for school groups during the school year.

Four nature trails, from 700 feet to two miles in length, are labelled for self-guided hikes. Trail hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Persons visiting the nature study area are prohibited from collecting flowers, leaves, rocks or animals. Family pets and picnicking are not permitted in the nature study area. However, there usually is a designated picnic site near the nature study area to accommodate school groups.

Special guided nature hikes are available to the general public on specific dates. For additional information call 782-1255 (Flat Rock).

Metropark vehicle entry permits are required.

Ham dinner to be featured at Methodist Mini-Bazaar

It's autumn and time for church bazaars.

One of the first congregations to announce their annual festivities is the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. Preparations are underway for its Mini-Bazaar and Harvest Moon Dinner which are scheduled for Oct. 19 from 3 to 8 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Antiques will be the new addition to this year's crop of booths and counters with Marian Irwin in charge of that phase of the program. She asks that anyone with something to show or sell contact her as soon as possible.

Another highlight of the day will be a ham dinner with home baked pie for dessert. Service will be at two times on the 19th — 5 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Tickets must be purchased in advance since plans do not call for ticket sales at the door. You may buy dinner tickets from any member of the United Methodist Women (UMW), at Kureth's Apparel, Hamilton Hardware, Roberts Bros. or at the church office. Sales deadline will be Oct. 16.

A wide variety of baked goods along with a candy section featuring homemade confections such as chocolate covered cherries and fudge will be a "must" for those suffering from "sweet toothitis."

Other bazaar offerings will be crafts, houseplants, fancy work, greeting cards, and Christmas items.

Free baby sitting services will be offered by reliable sitters while mothers browse, shop or dine.

Karen Carlson is chairing the fall event. Other chairpeople include Eunice Kause, decoration; Millie Keelan, kitchen; Mary Ellen Liskey, posters; Marie Roberts, telephone, and Helen White, publicity.

The dinner committee is comprised of Millie Keelan, Verdys Shephard and Harriet Walter; baked goods counter, Chris Tripod, Emma Stevens and Gladys Mast; fancy work, Lucille Touse; plants, Stella Adams; crafts, Cathy Caldwell; candy, Evelyn Griffith and Jan Eagle; and dining room, Helen Pierman and Juanita Akers.

The United Methodist Women, which is in charge of the bazaar, is headed by Winnie Gault, president; Avis White, vice-president; Barbara Ketchem, secretary, and Helen White, treasurer.

Business Women's Week proclaimed

Belleville Mayor Justin Emerson affixes his signature to the document which proclaims Oct. 15 - 21 as National Business Women's Week, not only in Belleville but across the nation. Irene Christie, president of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW), looks on. Local club members, their husbands and guests will begin the week-long observance with a nine o'clock breakfast Oct. 15 at the Red Apple Restaurant on Main Street followed by services at 10:30 a.m. at the First United Methodist Church. Ruth Baehr, chairman of Business Women's Week, is being assisted by Ethel McDonald, Joyce Phillips and Bertha Rettig.

Polish Culture School to reconvene Oct. 23

The Kalisz Polish Culture School, sponsored by the Polish Farmers Society, Polish National Alliance Lodge 2984, will begin its fourth year of operation on Oct. 23 from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Registration and orientation will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. Oct. 16 at the PNA Hall located at the corner of Sumpter and Harris Roads, south of Belleville.

For further information, call Marie Lehto at 461-6903.

Surprise party honors Owens

A surprise party in honor of their parents' 30th wedding anniversary came off as just that — a complete surprise — when the children of George (Wes) and Clara Owen entertained Sept. 29 in their honor.

Kirk Owen, who was on leave from his submarine duties with the U.S. Navy in Charleston, S.C., and his wife, Paula; Michelle Everad and her husband, Tom, of Ann Arbor; Kevin of Ypsilanti; Marcia, who was home from Western Michigan University; and Kyle and Kraig, at home, all had a hand in the hush-hush arrangements. W-e-l-l that is to say, everyone but Kraig did since it's a well-known fact that he just couldn't keep a secret for one day, let alone for WEEKS.

Friends and relatives, about 50 in all, were invited to Lake in the Woods Clubhouse near Ypsilanti for eight o'clock cocktails and hors d'oeuvres prepared by Michele Everard. The buffet service and bar were tended by her close friends and neighbors, Jim and Holly Ramsey.

Among the guests, who came from Southfield, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor, Dearborn, Ypsilanti, Tecumseh and Belleville, were the honored couple's mothers, Mrs. Evelyn Owen of Wyandotte and Mrs. Clara Kremer of St. Petersburg, Fla.

After the Owens had opened their gifts and cards, they cut their tiered anniversary cake, iced in red and white, which had been made by Joanne Elkins of Belleville.

The Owens, who reside on Edison Lake Road, Belleville, were married Sept. 18, 1948 in Allen Park. Besides their six children there are three grandchildren on their family tree — Amy and Tommie Everard and Andrea Owen. Wes is employed by Sesi Lincoln-Mercury in Ypsilanti and his wife works for the Ford Motor Company at Rawsonville.

Catherine R. Stokley, who is serving as a private with the U. S. Army, recently was assigned as a tracked-vehicle mechanic with the 122nd Maintenance Battalion in Kirch Gons, Germany.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Stokley of 37825 Castle Dr., Romulus, she entered the Army in January of this year. The private is a 1975 graduate of Romulus High School.

Ralph Rafalski, Karen Hill married in Saline church

An early autumn ceremony at Trinity Lutheran Church in Saline united Karen M. Hill of Saline and Ralph J. Rafalski of Belleville in holy matrimony. Pastor John Westendorf presided at the seven o'clock rite.

Mr. and Mrs. Mancle Hill of 320 W. Bennett, Saline, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rafalski of 10195 Haggerty Rd., Belleville, are parents of the young couple.

For her September 23 wedding day, Karen chose to wear a toe-touching gown of white lace and chiffon designed with long lace sleeves in the bishop mode and a lace-fringed oval neckline. Her silk illusion veil, banded in matching lace, fell from a little lace headpiece. Her bridal bouquet was comprised of Sonia roses, lilies of the valley and baby's breath.

Preceding the bride and her father up the aisle were four attendants: Barbara Stollsteimer of Ann Arbor, the maid of honor; Diane Finkbeiner and Vicky Hill, sisters of the bride, and Linda Deresewski, all of Saline.

Identically gowned, the quartet appeared in peach-floral dresses and held arrangements of Sonia roses, carnations and baby's breath.

Youngsters in the bridal coterie were Casie Finkbeiner, who was dressed the same as the senior attendants for her role as flowergirl, and Scott Osak, the ringbearer.

Dan Scripter of Ypsilanti was asked to be best man. Groomsmen were Bill Bennett, Rich Droste and Bob Hillard.

The American Legion Hall in Saline was reserved for the reception which followed. Some 275 relatives and friends were greeted by the bride's mother in a long blue gown to which she pinned her corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a floral gown and was presented with yellow roses and white carnations.

Following a week-long wedding trip to Mackinac Island and Northern Michigan, the newlyweds took up residence in Bridgewater.

The new Mrs. Rafalski, a 1977 graduate of Saline High School, is employed at Saline Die Casting. Her husband, a 1976 Belleville High School alumnus, works for Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors inYpsilanti.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rafalski played host at the rehearsal dinner, making reservations at Leuthauser's Restaurant in Saline.

MUSICAL NOTES
by Doug Brown

The piano has remained one of the most popular instruments both for home and concert use. One reason is that it has a pitch range exceeded only by that of the organ and can be one of the most expressive instruments available. Another aspect of its versatility is that it can be used as a solo instrument, a backup for either other instruments or voices, or can be a part of an orchestra. It is at home everywhere and all over the world.
Whether you have decided on a piano or organ for your home DOUG BROWN MUSIC, 9219 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, 941-8484 invites you to come by and see our outstanding selection of both. We also carry Leslie speakers. Watch for our occasional specials. Master Charge and Visa honored.
HANDY HINT:

Syrian traditions followed at Musallam-Guffey wedding

At the afternoon ceremony which made Deborah Sue Guffey the wife of Zakaria M. Musallam, vows were administered in both Arabic and English by The Very Rev. John Bodine who presided at the Sept. 16 wedding at St. George Orthodox Church in Detroit.

Fr. Bodine, who was assisted by Fr. Attaya and Fr. Dahdal, carried out the Syrian bridal custom and placed golden crowns on the couple's heads as they knelt at the altar.

Some 300 guests were assembled for the five thirty o'clock rite which joined the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Guffey of 22711 Middlebelt Rd., New Boston, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Musallam Z. Musallam of 11004 Hudson, Warren.

For the occasion the main aisle was sectioned off in satin ribbon with bows, flowers and greenery marking the pews. Altar appointments included two baskets of coral carnations, white gladiolas and daisy mums.

Georgann Grevstead of Belleville, soloist, sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "There is Love."

For her wedding day Deborah selected a gown of white silk organza, the V-necked bodice overlayed with Chantilly lace and seed pearls with long wristpoint sleeves. Her A-line skirt, banded in matching lace, extended into a cathedral train as she walked.

Her silk illusion veil, which drifted to the same length, was secured by a little Juliette cap of Chantilly lace. Completing her bridal finery was a cascade bouquet of silk white carnations and roses, coral roses and fresh ivy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride asked her sister, Mrs. Larry (Sheryl) Thoms of Trenton, to serve as honor attendant. Her floor-length qiana gown was in coral with a high-rise waistline, spaghetti-strap bodice, pleated skirt and three-quarter cape of matching organza. She tucked coral roses in her hair and held a colonial bouquet of coral roses mixed with other blooms.

Carolyn Earl of New Boston and two sisters of the bridegroom, Nora and Sonya Musallam, wore identical dresses in yellow, mint green and blue, respectively, and hairpieces to match.

The two flowergirls in little coral print frocks were Ilene Mitri, four, the daughter of the Gregory Mitris of Center Line, and Jennifer Howie, six the daughter of the Thomas Howies of Romulus.

Ricky Micheal, the 4-year-old son of the Mike Micheals of Royal Oak, carried out the role of ringbearer.

The bridegroom chose his brother, Michel Musallam of Warren to be best man. Ushers were Jacob and Nohad Musallam of Warren and Wayne Guffey of New Boston, all brothers of the bridal pair.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Guffey, was escorted up the aisle wearing a formal gown of blue qiana with flowing sleeves of chiffon. Her accessories were in silver and she wore a wrist corsage of white rosebuds and blue tinted carnations. For her son's wedding Mrs. Musallam donned a long dusty rose A-line qiana dress and black accessories. She, too, was presented with a wrist corsage of rosebuds and rose carnations.

A reception for some 420 relatives and friends was held at the Fandango Hall in Taylor after which the newlyweds departed for a short honeymoon in Northern Michigan. A honeymoon to Florida is being planned for the Christmas season. The couple's new address is 11318 Sherman, Warren.

A third-year student at Wayne State University, the new Mrs. Musallam is a 1976 graduate of Huron High School. Her husband earned his high school diploma in Beirut, Lebanon. He holds a bachelor of science degree from Wayne State University and is a candidate for a master's degree in math at WSU. He is employed by Wayne County Community College and Project S.E.E.D. in Detroit.

MR. AND MRS. ZAKARIA M. MUSALLAM

potpourri

BY LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

While taking a quick swing over to Kalamazoo last week to see our kids before we left on vacation, we suddenly came across our first mass of "color" for the season (admittedly, very briefly, but MOST beautiful!) near Jackson.

Guess it was the setting — a stand of the darkest green pines fringed by a mass of brilliant sumac with a vibrant amethyst poplar and shocking orange oak tucked in for still more shock appeal.

That very minute flash of autumn quilting caught us both by surprise since there really was nothing to speak of up to that point and very little (save for a spattering of golden-leafed bushes) from there to WMU.

It was an eye-catching break in an otherwise routine trip which we've experienced dozens of times. But — should YOU ever get that way, be sure to notice all the old barns, sheds and outbuildings enroute. Having taken a painting class where the instructor was mad for aging barns, I became aware of the old siding, the settings, the play of shadows and the interesting lines of the structures. That part of our state is LOADED with farm buildings.

That little jaunt (and ANY trip of length) always calls for my "sit upon" (to call on a little Girl Scout lingo) — K-Mart's answer to "Tee-Bee" . . . my travel pillow. Forgetting that is like torture.

And, you know, handy as those CB's can be, they also are a source of irritation at times. That cornball, mush-mouth twang which truckers seem to think is "cool" begins to grate on one's nerves after awhile. And their constant obsession with "beavers" makes them sound as if they're shackled to their cabs for weeks on end. I guess what bugs me (really) is that BG can understand what they're saying and it's all gibberish to me. (sour grapes?)

Almost had to let Diane (our "gal Friday" here at the E-R) down last week when she suddenly requested an apple dessert recipe — a FINGER dessert, yet. Hm-m-m, just about everything I have on file is a wee messy to eat that way; most things call for a fork or even spoon.

But — as the explicit cartoonist's graphic (and old cliche'd) light bulb suddenly glowed, I remembered the super Apple Hermits recipe that'd been shared with me many years back (how many, Nellie?) when we used to have the paper printed at Glen Rotary in New Boston.

Nellie Gall, who was then a proofreader (right?), brought in the following ingredients which are put together in the order given. Combine them, bake for 15 minutes in a 350 oven and you've one of the most delicious, moistest cookies you've ever downed. You won't stop at just one either and remember to give credit to Nellie who also reminded me that they "may be frozen." Give 'em a try — 'tis the season!

APPLE HERMITS

1 cup shortening	3 tsp. cinnamon
1½ cups brown sugar	3½ cups flour
3 eggs	½ tsp. cloves
¼ cup molasses	½ tsp. nutmeg
½ tsp. salt	1 cup chop't. nuts
½ tsp. baking soda	4 cups chop't. apples

The addition of raisins or dates is optional. Drop by tablespoon unto greased cookie sheet.

Are you ready for another reading suggestion; another Robert Ludlum work? As you've guessed by now, I am addicted to his writing — you might say I'm almost having an affair with the guy since so many of my nights are spent with "him."

Seriously, tho, folks (as the comedians say when they want you to think they've been funny) this fella Ludlum pens "The" best edge-of-your-seat novels — you just can't put them down.

His latest best seller, "The Holcroft Covenant", was lent to me by friends who share my enthusiasm for his style. Only in hardcover and with a waiting list at the library, you're going to have to borrow or buy. It's worth it!

The central figure, an American whose natural father was a member of Nazi Germany's Third Reich and its high command, is summoned to Geneva and shown an unbelievable and frightening document. Drawn up by three men in the throes of the war, it is meant to convince the man that the trio has written the "covenant" because of extreme remorse over German atrocities. In retribution the men have executed the massive theft of $780 million and in atonement, the money is supposedly to aid survivors of the Holocaust.

It is all a ruse, which the hero does not realize until almost too late — for on signing the document he has signed his own death warrant. Set in New York, Geneva, Paris, the story winds its way through execution type murders, deceit, British and American Intelligence involvement, the Odessa and other subversive groups which have risen from WW II and, of course, there IS the handy beautiful-but-brave heroine who manages to be "involved."

Not for Victorian romance devotees but a MUST for those who lean towards foreign intrigue.

In last week's "Around the town" column, I might just have thrown friends of the Dysdales a slight curve. Bob and Maryann ARE living on Tampa Bay BUT — in Clearwater, Fla., 33520. Since we had one inquiry, we decided to make it clear to anyone else who just might be wondering.

———

A couple days back someone called to ask what a 45th wedding anniversary designated, what was it "called", and none of us knew or could find an answer. But, voila! Found it in the World Almanac and the 45th is sapphire (that's gonna cost you, fella!)

The 55th, which isn't too commonly known (and should you ever wonder) is emerald. Looks like a visit to the jewelry store.

We've a third coming up in the family — what do you want in "leather", kids?

———

THE BOTTOM LINE: A budget is a family's attempt to live within its yearnings.

"A HELPFUL GUIDE TO FUNERAL PLANNING"

That's the title of a free booklet which may answer a lot of questions you may have.
Many residents of our community have used this guide in deciding NOW (when there is no stress or emergency) about making arrangements for funerals IN ADVANCE OF NEED.
Why pre-plan a funeral? First, you can make decisions and choices, yourself, with full composure instead of under the unfortunate circumstances of grieving and emotional stress. Second, you need not "overspend." You should select only that service and that casket, and those touches which you feel are important.
That beloved and meaningfully significant Scripture passage, that special hymn, the minister whose understanding and compassion you so admire — all can be part of your service, if you make your wishes known and arranged for in advance.
The "Planning Guide" covers a great deal more. Call or write for a free copy.

Oh, Romeo

Cynthia Dozier (left) and Mark Robins will be back again in the title roles of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet", a revival of last season's popular production, which opens at the Hilberry Theatre Oct. 13. The troupe's staging of the world' most famous love story will continue in the repertory at least through February. For ticket and schedule information call the Hillberry box office at 577-2972.

At Hilberry Theatre

'Romeo and Juliet' opens Friday

Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," a revival of the Hilberry Repertory Company's top box office attraction of last season, re-opens Oct. 13 at 8:30 p.m. at the Hilberry Theatre, located at Cass and Hancock on the Wayne State University campus.

This production of the world's most famous love story "sparkles with wit and humor," according to Detroit News critic Jake Highton. He also wrote that "its 'star-crossed lovers' are tender, charming and — most important in this play — believable." The play is scheduled to continue in this year's repertory at least through February.

The production, which was directed by Richard Spear and designed by Spear and Russell Smith, the theatre's director of design, is based visually on the paintings of Breughel. Costumes were designed by Ellen Ryba and executed by Helen Markovitch, with lighting design by Gary M. Witt.

Mark Robbins and Cynthia Dozier are back again as Romeo and Juliet, as are Geoffrey Beauchamp as Mercutio, Von Washington as Friar Laurence, Jim Birdsall as Capulet, John Morgan Lund as Benvolio, Richard Gustin as Paris and Erick Devine as the Prince of Verona.

New in principal roles are Dianne Winslow as the nurse, George Christopher Kappaz as Tybalt and Joyce Ramsay as Capulet's wife.

"The Crucible," Arthur Miller's American classic concerning the Salem witch trials, has been slated as the Bonstelle Theatre's season opener. This well known drama will be presented on Oct. 13, 14 and 20-21 at 8:30 p.m. and on Oct. 15 and 22 at 2 p.m.

Written in response to Miller's personal experience with the McCarthy hearings during the 1950s, "The Crucible" has now emerged as more than a topical drama of that time. It continues to hold the stage as a powerful human tragedy as well as a timeless docial drama. The play centers around the life of a common Puritan farmer, John Proctor, an innocent victim of the witchcraft hysteria who finds the strength to become truly heroic.

The Bonstelle cast is headed by Richard Buzinski (New Baltimore) as John Proctor, Cheryl Risley (Roseville) as his wife Elizabeth, and Maryann Ferec (Detroit) as the young girl who vengefully accused them of witchcraft.

Other principal roles are played by Philip Fox (Detroit) as Deputy-Governor Danforth, Kim Cook (Westland) and Mary Warren and Neil E. Martin (Warren) in the role of Reverend Hale.

Settings for the production are designed by Blair Vaughn Anderson, costumes by Marilyn Renaud and lighting by Reid G. Johnson.

Ticket information is available from the Wayne State University Theatre Box Office at 577-2960. Tickets are also available through Henry Ford Community College and the Schoolcraft College Ticket Services.

WSU professer speaks at gem, mineral show

Dr. William Hammer of Wayne State University is scheduled to speak at the Greater Detroit Gem and Mineral Show, seated for this weekend at the Lightguard Armory on East Eight Mile Road in Detroit. He will discuss the fossil discoveries he and a Wayne State research team recently uncovered in the cold mountains of Antarctica.

Dr. Hammer is but one of several speakers who will make an appearance during the course of the gem and mineral show. Hosted by the Michigan Mineralogical Society, the event also will feature an array of gem and mineral displays, along with crafts and hobby demonstrations, plus a host of mineral dealers. The exposition will be open to the public from 6 to 10 on Friday, 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Admission is $2 for adults and 50 cents for children under twelve.

Music Hall hosts Frisco ballet troupe

Next Wednesday through Oct. 22, Detroit's Music Hall Center for the Performing Arts will host the San Francisco Ballet, the oldest classical ballet company in the United States.

With its own 40-piece orchestra, the Performing Arts Orchestra of San Francisco, the ballet company will perform works of some of the great living choreographers, as well as dances created by artists within the company.

Directors of the San Francisco Ballet, Lew Christensen and Michael Smuin, enrich the company with their own dramatically effective choreography. Three performances of the company's engagement in Detroit features Smuin's choreographed "Romeo and Juliet", the first full-scale production of Prokofiev's score to be attempted by a major American company.

Smuin's "Romeo and Juliet" was presented this past summer on PBS for the prestigious "Dance in America" series, and was presented with an Emmy for Outstanding Achievement in costume design by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences.

The remainder of the Detroit program is an assortment of elegant, yet forceful masterpieces showing off the company's beautifully trained dancers.

Lew Christensen's "Divertissement D'Auber" displays the vigorous leaping and spinning of classical technique while Smuin's sense of theatricality in "Shinju" portrays a melodramatic blend of Japanese styles. There also are such pieces as "Stravinsky Capriccio for Piano and Orchestra" which carry no message other than to create images motivated by the music.

The San Francisco Ballet began in 1933 as the San Francisco Opera Ballet, providing dancers for the San Francisco Opera performances.

Company director Smuin says: "The San Francisco Ballet is entering a Golden Age. It now has the creative force, leadership and talent to become a company of international status - a company that will set trends, not follow them."

Evening performances for the San Francisco Ballet run from Oct. 18 - 21 at 8:30 p.m. and Oct. 22 at 6:30 p.m. Two matinees are scheduled for Oct. 19 at 1 p.m. and Oct. 21 at 2 p.m. The Music Hall box office at 350 Madison Avenue in Detroit has tickets available between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Telephone orders are accepted from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Call 963-7680 to order or for further information.

Stage is set for unbeaten '11s'

A classic: Glenn takes on North

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

The stage is set for Friday night's confrontation betwen John Glenn and North Farmington as the undefeated powers clash for grid supremacy of the Northwest Suburban League.

Coach Chuck Gordon's Rockets shut out Thurston, 17-0, and Ron Holland's Red Raiders stung Livonia Franklin, 23-0, on Saturday afternoon to run their respective records to 5-0 on the season and 2-0 in the conference.

Adding to the hoopla surrounding the "do-or-die" battle is the fact it is homecoming for host John Glenn and all eyes in the metropolitan area will be focused on the televised battle.

The game will be shown on channel 56 at 10 p.m.

But despite all this, Coach Gordon will not admit that it's the biggext game in Glenn's history.

"It's the most important game played around here in a long time," Gordon said, "but we've had some other really big games. And that's what it's all about — these emotion-charged, important games when excitement runs to fever pitch.

"North Farmington has good athletes and is well coached.

They don't have any weaknesses. They've only given up 22 points in five games and are the best team we've played so far.

"We know we'll probably be the underdogs. But we're healthy for the game and we'll be ready!"

The game appears to be a matchup of superior defenses. The Raiders have allowed only 22 points in five games, but the Rockets of John Glenn have compiled four shutouts in giving up just six points in their five contests.

Leading North Farmington's attack is tailback Mike Miller, a scatback who runs 40-yards in 4.5 seconds. Greg (Goldstein, a 5-foot-8, 150 quarterback, can go through the air when he has to or call on Jeff Cohen and Pat Collins, a pair of tough-running fullbacks.

To show how deep the Raiders are, Goldstein was the third-string quarterback until the first two got hurt and he's done such a good job, he may stay in there.

Actually, Gordon and his staff said they weren't very pleased with the Rockets' 17-0 thrashing of Thurston Saturday. "We didn't feel the offense executed as well as they should have, but the strong wind played a big part in play selection."

Glenn didn't complete any passes in four attempts but all were well-thrown. One was caught out of bounds and another potential touchdown toss was dropped by a Rocket receiver who got behind every Thurston defender at midfield.

However, Glenn got on the scoreboard early, moving 48 yards to score in eight plays. Quarterback Rob Suida dove over from the one-yard-line with 5:27 left in the first quarter to cap the drive. Suida sparked the march on two quarterback keepers, sprinting 13 yards for a first down on the Thurston 30, and two plays later wiggling eight yards for another first down on the Eagle 19-yard-line.

Speedy tailback Tim Ruark, Glenn's answer to North Farmington's Mike Miller, raced 14 yards down to the five and then carried again to the goal line before Suida's "second-effort" lunge scored for Glenn. Kal DeLuca converted and Rockets led, 7-0.

Glenn's defense was extremely stingy as it only allowed the Eagles inside the 50-yard-line on two occasions, once with 25 seconds left in the first half and again with 10 sedonds left in the game. Both times came as Glenn allowed the short pass completion to keep Thurston from the big play score.

Glenn permitted just eight Thurston first downs, four in each half and Eagle Quarterback Mike Fitzsimmons connected on five of 12 passes for 62 yards and had one intercepted by Tim Ruark. Thurston runners could only muster 34 yards and Fitzsimmons added 64 yards on the ground when he was forced out of the passing pocket.

Glenn defensive tackle Dan O'Brien recovered a Thurston fumble on the Eagle 40 yard line to set up a 36-yard field goal by Andy Pucci with 8:34 left in the third quarter. Ruark's 15-yard scamper was a key play in the six-play drive.

Glenn's scored its last touchdown with 1:23 left in the game as it moved smartly 70 yards in eight plays to make it 17-0.

Thurston's Rich Rudd punted from his endzone with the wind and his punt rolled dead on Glenn's 30-yard-line to set up the scoring march.

On a 3rd-and-5 for Glenn, Ruark took a pitchout from Suida and threaded his way 50 yards through the Eagle defenders to the Thurston 15. Junior tailback Scott Thornton relieved Ruark and carried 10 yards in successive 5-yard gains for a first down on the Eagle five.

Thonton took it to the three on the next play and Ruark returned to bang it over two plays later from inches out.

Coach Gordon praised center Russ Hall and tackle Jeff Killingbeck along with Ruark for fine offensive games. Tackle Dan O'Brien and Jim Demaray won plaudits for stopping Thurston's attack.

The Rockets rolled up 206 yards and nine first downs. Ruark, held to 47 yards unofficially in the first half, exploded for 107 yards in 13 second half carries to wind up with 154 yards in 22 carries.

Now all eyes turned toward John Glenn where things will be really rocking Friday night before an overflow crowd ballooned by

Wayne puts on homecoming show

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A deceptively fast Mark Korte and the Wayne Zebras made short work out of a determined Lincoln Park Friday night before some 5,000 Wayne Memorial fans who were treated to their first homecoming victory in four years.

It was Korte's stunning 60-yard touchdown run against a desperate 11-man Lincoln Park line that was the straw that broke the camel's back and paved the way for a 24-15 Wayne victory.

"It was a great game for us to win," said Wayne Coach Floyd Carter whose troops run up against undefeated Great Lakes 8 Conference leader, Monroe, Friday night. "I felt we would have a more convincing victory, however, we sputtered and made key mistakes which made the game close to the end.

"It was the kind of game that fans really like," Carter continued, "because there was a lot of action and a lot of suspense."

Carter and the Zebras will have their backs up against the wall

Troubled waters

Romulus Coach Don Foley says he'll be going back to basics after an unheralded Willow Run shut out the Eagles 20-0. Romulus, which didn't field a team a year ago because of money problems in the school district, returns to action a week from Friday at Oak Park. The Eagles hope to have their grid problems solved by then.

The Sports Meridian

An all-star benefit cage game

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

They call 'em by a variety of names - récreation centers, boys' clubs, community centers, but one of the purposes of these buildings is to get people involved.

In the past and presently, boys clubs and comunity centers have helped a lot of young people keep out of trouble, given them a place to gather under adult supervision and have a memorable time.

But there will be no future for the Inkster Boys' Club if it doesn't come up with the funds to keep the doors open.

And there is a group of former cage stars who remember that they learned a lot from the center and would like to help.

The spokesman for the group, Fred Smiley, a former All-American cager out of Northwood Institute in Midland and an ex-All-Stater from Inkster High, is rounding up some excellent talent to stage a benefit game for the Boys' Club.

The 31-year-old Smiley, who is the father of three small children, explains:

"We read and hear that the boys' club was in dire need of funds to keep their programs going," said Smiley, "and since a lot of us profited from the club in the past when we were growing up, we feel it's only fitting that we should try to help out."

The "We" is indeed, very impressive.

Smiley named off a list of former Inkster players - most of whom made All-State and starred in colleges and universities - who will make up a team made up of equally formidable players from the downriver community of River Rouge and Ecorse.

The two teams are scheduled to play Friday, October 27 at 7:30 p.m. in the newly-built Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt.

Preceeding the men's game, there will be a 6 p.m. matchup between the girls' teams from Cherry Hill and Rouge.

Smiley said that such notables as Eartha Faust, who is considered one of the finest players in the school's history, along with All-Staters Richard Walker, who starred at Bowling Green, Duane Fox (Oral Roberts), Bernard Bonam (Eastern Michigan), Henry Hughes, a former All-American who will act as player-coach, Bill Reed (Western Michigan), Bob Fowler, ex-Cherry Hill great who is presently at Iowa, and Earl Smiley, Fred's younger brother will make up the line-up for the locals.

Meanwhile Rouge and Ecorse will have such greats as Archie Clark, who was an All-Stater from Ecorse and later played for the Pistons and Baltimore, Cliff Williams, former Southwestern High and University of Toledo shooting star, the Smith brothers — Dennis and Ken of Ecorse, along with the Moulton brothers, Malcolm and Nicki, Bill Kilgore of Rouge and Michigan State fame and the in comparable Willie Betts of Rouge in uniform.

Cage coaches needed

Volunteer basketball coaches are needed for leagues designed for elementary school boys and girls.

The leagues will be made up of players from the 4th and 5th grades and from the sixth and seventh grades.

Practice sessions will be conducted at elementary schools in the Wayne-Westland School District and games will be played at Roosevelt Elementary School and Franklin Junior High School.

For further information, please contact Bill Hawley at Wayne Memorial (721-2660) or at home after 6 p.m. (729-6461).

Right up the middle

Though encircled by a score of Lincoln Park defenders, Wayne Memorial's elusive and speedy runningback Ed Turbeville (dark jersey) slips through for gains that help defeat the visiting Railsplitters. Turbeville, who has been the mainstay of the Zebras' ground game, was instrumental on defense as well as Wayne bounced back from their first loss at Fordson to jolt Lincoln Park 24-15. Wayne trails Monroe by one game in the league standings and it can make up the deficit Friday night by beating the Trojans. However, they'll have to do it before a homecoming crowd at Monroe.

While waiting for Melvindale's demise

Spartans strafe Riverside

Forced to play a waiting game after losing to undefeated Melvindale in the rain two weeks ago, Cherry Hill recovered from its shock at the expense of Dearborn Heights Riverside and buried the Rebels 41-6 last Friday.

The victory kept Coach Jerry Pawloski's Spartans in the title race, but they need help from someone in the league who'll have to knock off the league frontrunner.

"In this league anything can happen," said Pawloski, "and, though Melvindale is in the driver's seat if they make a wrong turn we could catch them."

Meanwhile, Cherry Hill put 41 points on the board, the most any Spartan team has ever scored in one football game in the history of that school.

Pawloski was very pleased with his team's performance and commented, "that anytime you come back from an emotional loss as we did you have to be pleased. The kids could have been flat, drained from losing to Melvindale, but they weren't."

The Spartans boosted their Tri-River Conference record to 3-1 and over-all to 4-1 on the season. They'll travel to Taylor Kennedy on Saturday for a 2 p.m. contest, their fifth in the league.

Pawloski is concerned over Kennedy's improving image. The Eagles have two excellent runningbacks in Don Olsen and Reion Reilly and "our defense's goal will be to stop their running game."

Six different players scored for Cherry Hill against the slipping Riverside. Randy Frederick culminated a 65-yard, eight play drive with a three-yard touchdown sprint with 8:21 on the clock. Darnell Green's kick for the extra point was wide.

Then, in the same period the Spartans got on the board with 2:25 left as quarterback Rick Searcy scooted 10 yards on a keeper.

For all purposes the Spartans put the game out of reach in the second quarter when they erupted for 21 points. Searcy's 17-yard pass to runningback Tom Minor clicked for one of the Tds, set up after tackle Bob Tamm recovered a Riverside fumble on the Reb 35 yard line. That preceded a 70-yard Searcy touchdown run nullified because of a clip.

Later in the quarter, Searcy and Jon Sweet combined on a 45-yard pass that netted them their second touchdown of the quarter, and Frederick tallied on a 11-yarder with 5:22 remaining in the half.

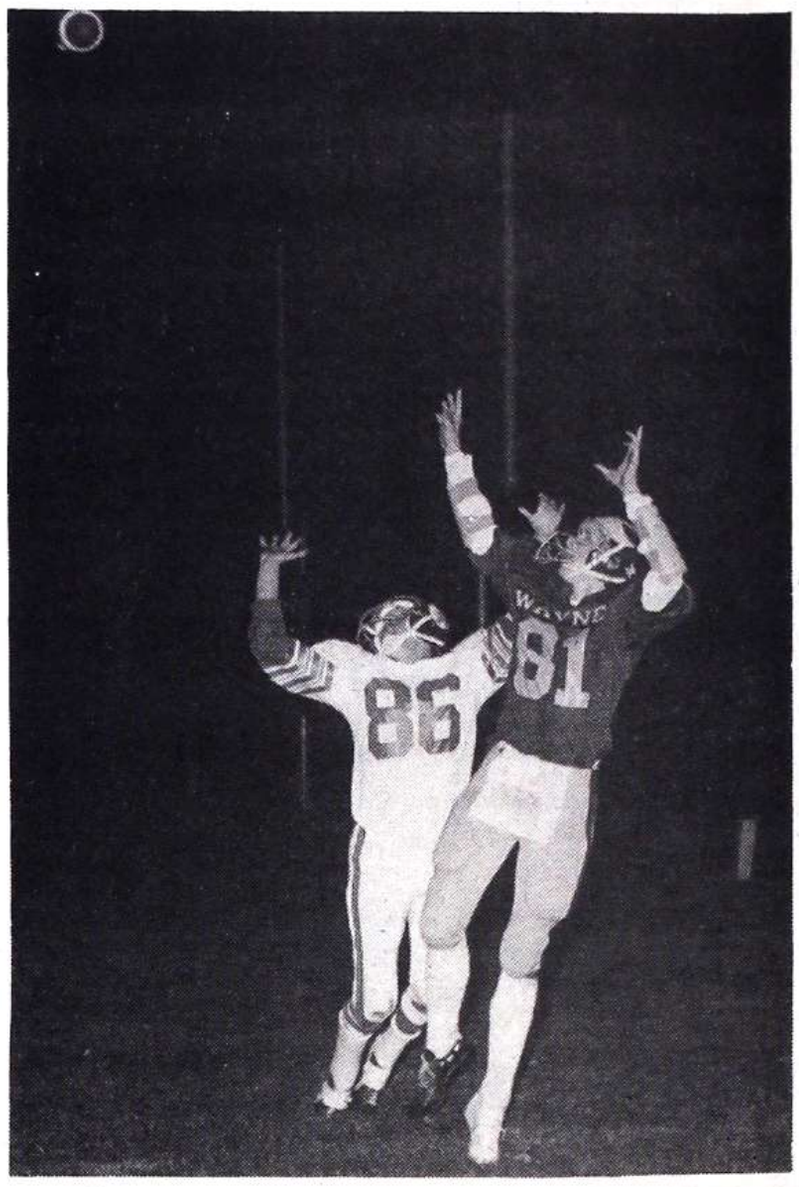
Riverside averted the shutout with 2:28 left in the second quarter when Rick Jabubowski crashed through the middle and sprinted 40 yards into the Spartan end zone.

Neither team got on the board in the third frame, but Cherry Hill came back after another Reb gift in the fourth quarter to wind it up on Pat Sassein's 20-yard touchdown sweep. Searcy hit Sweet for the two point conversion.

Darnell Gallant, who rushed for 77 yards in the first half and rested the second, led the Spartan ballcarriers who had amassed 362 yards for the game. He carried the ball six times. Minor, who was given four opportunities to run, picked up 53 and Sassein had 44 in nine carries.

Sophomore Bob Koscielacki, a 6-3, 217-pound, defensive tackle who replaced injured Ken Taylor, played an excellent game.

"We held Riverside to five first downs and 203 total yards," said Pawloski, "and I would have to say that everyone on that defensive team contributed to this victory. It's the worst beating they have ever sustained in football from one of our teams."



Six-point landing

Having beaten Lincoln Park's Ross Cheek(86), Wayne Memorial's Skip Walker(81) hauled in this aerial from quarterback Mark Korte for a touchdown that helped the Zebras win their first homecoming game in four years and boosted their Great Lakes 8 Conference record to 3-1 on the season. Coach Floyd Carter's troops take on undefeated and undisputed conference kingpin, Monroe, Friday night in a do-or-die situation. If the Zebras lose they can forget about the 1978 championship.

Tough teams out of way, Belleville eyes Allen Park

After five frustrating losses, Belleville will play someone "in its own class."

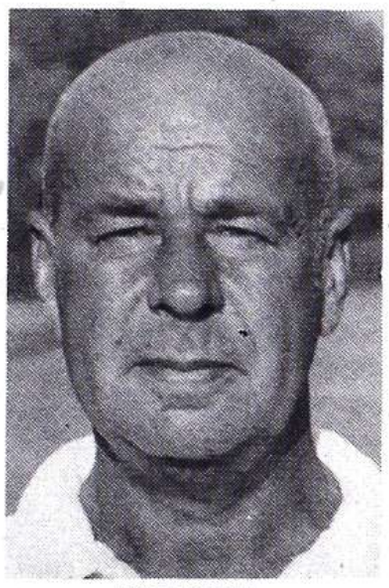
Coach Pat Stokes dropped their fifth consecutive, fourth in the Suburban 8 Football Conference Friday night, losing to Dearborn 34-7.

The Tigers will attempt to end their five-game skid at Allen Park, which cut a losing streak of its own last week at the expense of winless Livonia Bentley.

"Allen Park probably is a lot like we are," said Stokes sizing up his Friday night rival. "We have a lot in common and this is the time we're going to have to do it."

Stokes pointed out that the five teams they have played thus far this season have a combined won-lost record of 23-2, "and that's a good indication of what our kids have been up against these past few weeks."

Stokes also held out the injured Brian Brinkerhoff from last week's game against Dearborn, but the top-notch defender and one of the team's leading rusher may see action against the Jaguars.



PAT STOKES

Belleville couldn't capitalize on the breaks that Dearborn afforded them - one such gift was Loren Ormanian's fumble recovery on the Pioneer 43. After three unsuccessful plays, the Tigers gave the ball back via a punt.

Dearborn however cashed in on a Belleville turnover in the second quarter to break the scoreless deadlock. The Pioneers pounced on the ball at the Tiger 35 and Steve Mills later scored on a 22-yard sprint.

Midway in the second quarter the visiting Dearbornites added to their lead with one of three long scoring "bombs".

The first was a 43-yarder from Russ Haller to Bond Mills which padded the Pioneer lead to 13-0. With a minute left in the half, Dearborn struck again, using the air waves. A 48-yard pass from Mills to Haller gave them their third score and after kicking the extra point, the visitors strolled to the lockerroom with a hefty 20-0 edge.

After the second half kickoff Belleville fumbled again, this time on its own 35 yard line and a Haller-Mills passing combination netted them a 40-yard touchdown pass.

Rain-soaked Tigers outrun Allen Park

High winds and incessant rains didn't stop Belleville from chalking up its first Suburban 8 Conference cross country victory last Thursday.

Coach Dave Medley's harriers evened up their conference record at 1-1 at the expense of Allen Park. The Jaguars were subdued by the local runners 20-39.

"Surprisingly, the rains didn't hamper us as much as you'd think," Medley said. "The boys were within 10 seconds of their regular times."

Bob Oakley, who is closing in on Wayne Memorial's super junior, Doug Tolson, carded a 15:33 to come within 12 seconds of Tolson's best time. Oakley led teammate Darrel Thompson to the wire. Thompson was clocked in 16:12.

Belleville also placed fourth and fifth with Tim McIntyre and Mark Barrera, while Bill Whitmer was eighth.

Earlier in the week Belleville disposed of Taylor Truman as the Tigers padded their over-all record to 6-3. Oakley again led the pack with a 15:46 for the three-mile run. Thompson was third in 16:14, followed by McIntyre, who was fourth(17:08), Mark Barrera, who was fifth(17:34), and Joe Wojeowicz, who was sixth(17:43).

"I'm satisfied with the way our team is progressing," said Medley, "I feel we're doing all right. We do have a few injuries, but so do most of the other teams.

"Moreover, these runners have showed themselves to be hard-working students and athletes."

Helping hand

Two reasons why Alma College's football team is undefeated this season are Todd DeLuca, a former All-Area gridder from Westland John Glenn(at right) and Matt Prisk, a Livonia sophomore. Last minute come-from-behind or tie-breaking squeakers on the last three Saturdays have made it possible for Alma's Scots to take a 4-0 record into their Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association opener at Adrian last Saturday.

Wayne tankers dunk John Glenn

With the Batterson sisters - Gretchen and Kelly - accounting for three first places and participating on the winning freestyle relay team, Wayne subdued arch-rival, Westland John Glenn in an out-of-league girls' swimming meet, 97-75, last week.

Coach Jim McPartlin's tankers also ruined Dearborn Heights Riverside's return to swim competition, beating the Rebels 132-29 for their third consecutive victory.

They'll place that win streak on the line Thursday when they travel to Fordson to take on the Tractors in a 4 p.m. Great Lakes 8 Conference meet.

Gretchen Batterson led a Wayne sweep in the 50-yard freestyle as she pulled in at 28.6, beating teammates Kelly Lang and Jenny Richardson to the wire. Miss Batterson then went on to win the 500-yard freestyle.

Kelly was the top performer in the 100-yard freestyle, edging Glenn's Thelma Kew by two-hundreths of a second for the victory. Miss Kew captured a first in the 200-yard freestyle, beating Kelly to the wire in that event.

McPartlin was also pleased with sophomore Lori Miles' efforts in the butterfly event where she shaved 10 seconds off her best time in finishing first in 1:13.8.

Rockets' red glare

There'll be a lot of hoopla around Westland John Glenn this week and the festivities will climax in one of the biggest high school football games of the season when undefeated Westland John Glenn hosts high-ranking unbeaten North Farmington. Glenn will be celebrating its traditional homecoming and the pagentry includes the crowning of the homecoming queen. North will be out to spoil all of the fun for the Rockets who hope to reciprocate by rudely ruining the season for the Red Raiders.

Westland offers ice hockey time

City of Westland officials today announced that they will offer "pick-up" hockey ice times at the multi-purpose arena between the hours of 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday.

The league is set up so individuals may drop by the arena and play hockey. There is a $2 per person charge for the two-hour session.

A morning hockey league is available for men working afternoon or midnights. Ice time is available for this activity for Tuesdays and Fridays from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The multi-purpose arena also invites the schools to take advantage of the ice facility which may be scheduled for classes or units during the course of the school day.

Students may pay a regular price or there is a package plan available for skating, hot dog, and coke. If teachers do desire, the concession area can be opened for individual purchases. It is requested that teacher or parental supervision be supplied with one adult for every 10 children.

Further information may be obtained on the ice hockey programs by telephoning 729-4567.

It's Salem vs. Trenton for all of the marbles

Redford Union gives Rocks a scare

Plymouth Salem will argue its case Friday night why the Rocks deserve to be No.1 in the Suburban 8 Conference again this year, but advocate Tom Moshimer may have a hard time convincing Trenton.

In any case, neither team is expected to rest their defense in a game that should produce the 1978 conference champ and probably a representative to the Region 111 post-season playoffs.

"Trenton was picked as the preseason conference title favorite," said Moshimer in sizing up his Friday night opponent, "and they are playing that role. I expect an excellent, hard-hitting game and the team that makes the fewer mistakes should come away the winner."

Both teams enter the contest, scheduled for 8 p.m., with an untainted 5-0 record.

Meanwhile, Salem attempts to get the kinks out of their offense which sputtered until the fourth quarter at Redford Union last Friday. The Rocks survived the upset minded R.U. contingent, 13-6.

It was also the final meeting between these two teams as league rivals. This is the last year that R.U. will be affiliated with the Suburban 8 - it has joined the ranks of the Northwest Suburban Conference.

For three frustrating quarters the Rocks came within excellent scoring range, but it wasn't until Rich Hewlett's one-yard plunge with 9:39 left in the fourth period did Salem get on the scoreboard. Hewlett, who quarterbacked a 12-play midfield drive was switched into a runningback slot and managed to dive over into the end zone to end the scoreless deadlock.

Rick Hanschu kicked the extra point to lift the Rocks to a 7-0 position, however, R.U. came right back and put together a sustained drive that ended with an 8-yard touchdown pass with Paul Babit on the receiving end of quarterback Jim Sopha's toss.

R.U. elected to go for two but the Rocks' defensive unit, led by Jeff Powers, was ready and nailed Sopha before he could cross the goal line.

Less than a minute later, Salem scored an insurance touchdown. This time it was Phil Anderson who provided the heroics. He broke loose for his longest run of the season, a 78-yard off tackle jaunt that netted the Rocks their second TD.

"It was a classic defensive battle and I have to commend both teams for an extraordinary game,' said Moshimer. "It's a type of suspenseful game that fans like and coaches fear - because anything can happen."

Anderson, thanks to that 78 yard jaunt, was the Rocks' leading rusher with 84 yards in four tries, while Craig Stack picked up 45 in nine tries.

Though the first downs were close - Salem had the edge 9-8, the Rocks had the edge in nearly all the other categories: Salem had 258 yards to R.U.'s 90 and connected on two of seven passes for 40 yards to their rivals' three of 10 for 32.

"The next two games are definitely very important," pointed out Moshimer. "After Trenton, we have to travel to Dearborn where we play Edsel Ford and these couple of weeks will tell us a lot about ourselves."

Wayne wins own cross country invitational

Tolson breezes to victory

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Doug Tolson is becoming a legend in his own time.

The unpretentious Wayne Memorial junior shattered another record as he led Coach Ernie Righetti's jaggernauts to an impressive victory at their own cross country invitational.

Getting excellent cooperation from the weatherman, Wayne turned back a field of 11 other area teams to retain the cross country title the Zebras had won a year ago.

Tolson set an invitational record as he guided teammate Paul Spencer across the finish line. Tolson's winning time was recorded as 15:17, shaving two-hundredths of a second off of former Wayne great,. Rick Blaha's time.

Tolson jumped out in front and set the pace with Spencer keeping close tabs on his running partner. Belleville's Bob Oakley came up to challenge Spencer for the second place spot, but he faded in the stretch and had to settle for third place.

"It was nice to come back and win this after losing to Fordson." said Righetti. "Our frontrunners are coming along very nicely, but we're still in search for a fifth man."

Wayne compiled 66 points, beating Livonia Franklin out for the first place trophy. Coach Bob Holmes' Patriots garnered 72 points and were followed in the final standings by Trenton (110), Garden City West(125), Plymouth Canton(132), Belleville(134), Dearborn Heights Crestwood(145), Plymouth Salem(148), Taylor Center(221), Taylor Kennedy(282), Taylor Truman(298) and Romulus which had only four runners who completed the run, with 221 points.

Tolson, Spencer, who was clocked in 15:47, Oakley, who ran a 15:52, along with Trenton's Jeff Zenetti(16:09), Belleville's Darryl Thompson(16:25), Wayne's Mark Michalowski(16:26), Franklin's Paul Colburn(16:30), Franklin's Jeff Reich(16:32), Franklin's Dave Dawson(16:34) and Tom Spite of Canton(16:35) were named to the all-invitational team.

The top three teams were awarded trophies and the awards presentations were made at a banquet honoring all 12 teams.

"This is a first for us and we hope to make it a traditional affair," said Righetti who pointed out that funds for the banquet came from special projects organized by the cross country booster club.

Meanwhile, in Great Lakes 8 Conference competition the Zebras lost their first dual meet in league play as Fordson jolted the defending champs thanks to the "six-man rule". The two teams had identical 28-28 scores after the first five men were counted, and the deadlock was resolved by the performance of the sixth runner. Fordson had the edge there and tilted the scales in its favor.

Righetti is concerned that if a fifth man doesn't develop soon, "it could jeopardize our team's performances at the regional and the state.

"It would be a shame to go 1-2 in the regional and not qualify for the state finals," stressed Righetti, "and that is the problem we will be faced with if a fifth man doesn't step forward to complement the efforts of Tolson, Spencer and Michalowski".

Cross country champs, again

Undefeated Franklin, North clash

Whether Livonia Franklin harriers and Coach Bob Holmes have the best cross country team in the Northwest Suburban Conference this season should be known after Thursday's meeting with North Farmington.

Franklin and North enter the showdown for first place with perfect 3-0 records but Holmes figures his Patriots will have a slight edge because of its depth.

"We moved from a mediocre team to a solid one," said Holmes after his harriers crushed Thurston 15-50 last week. "We have eight or nine runners who are doing the job and it's getting to become more competitive just to stay on varsity."

Franklin will travel to Oakland Community College for the 4 p.m. Thursday duel with North and Holmes points out "that our depth puts us in a strong position to

Chiefs await champ

Mandle mauls Mott as Canton wins, 18-0

By ERIC GEARNS
Special to ANP

Coach Dave Schuele's Canton Chiefs may not win the Western Six Football crown but they may spoil it for Farmington Harrison this Saturday night.

The Chiefs got back on the winning track last Friday ,as they easily handled a much bigger Waterford Mott Corsair team 18-0. The victory was their first ever homecoming win and their first win in league play this season.

There was really only one way to describe the Canton victory—— Rusty Mandle and more Rusty Mandle.

The senior captain of the Chiefs rushed for 242 yards in 28 carries and picked up another 111 yards on pass receptions for the night.

In addition the All-State candidate scored two of the three Chief touchdowns and led the team defensively with 10 tackles.

Mandle now has a total of 648 yards rushing for the season and is almost a cinch to become the school's first ever 1000 yeard rusher.

Mandle and the Chiefs have an opportunity for another first Saturday night if they can knock off league kingpin Harrison for the first time ever. Canton will have the home field advantage in the 7:30 matchup.

Schuele was pleased with the team's overall performance and especially with the play of Mandle and senior transfer quarterback Scott Dawson. "Mandle just had an excellent ballgame, and in my opinion is one of the top running backs in the state right now", said the Canton mentor. "Dawson's field generalship was a key factor for us tonight", added Schuele, "He ran the ball club with composure and kept the drives going, it was definitely his best game so far."

Mandle gave credit for his big night, a Canton single game rushing record, to his offensive line; Charles Nyhus, Dave Tanner, Russ Schumann, George Hamblin, Steve Eddy, and Jay McKinlev. "Our line was just super tonight", said Mandle, "They fired out on their initial blocks, and then made second and third blocks down the field."

"As far as the thousand yards, it has been a goal of mine, but right now I'm just concerned with beating Harrison", said the Chief running back.

Canton wasted no time in scoring as they took the opening kickoff and marched 73 yards for the score with only 3:29 gone in the opening quarter. Mandle accounted for 63 of those yards with four carries, and went the final 43 for the score on a blast up the middle.

The game then settled down into a defensive struggle for the remainder of the period.

As the second quarter began the Chiefs took the ball on their own eight and sustained a drive to the Mott 11 where Dawson coughed up the ball on a fumble.

With neither team threatening the remainder of the half, Canton went to the lockerroom up 6-0.

Mott made some offensive changes at the half and began moving to start the third quarter, with Chuck Simon their top halfback calling signals. The move seemed to confuse the Chief defense and the Corsairs pushed down to the Canton 22 where key tackles by Mandle and sophmore Craig Gearns pushed Mott back and stalled the drive.

After an exchange of punts and the end of the quarter, Mott again began to move. A key interception by the Chiefs junior safety Steve Gray killed the drive and gave the Chiefs the ball on the Corsair 34.

Mandle then carried the ball five straight times, the final carry resulting in a 19 yard TD, with 10:45 remaining in the last stanza.

Once again Simon began to move the Corsairs, but this time it was McKinley who halted the drive with an interception at the Canton six yeard line.

Canton began to move but three penalties in a row set up a fourth and second take on canton football

With Mott sending ll men into rush the punter Eddy took the snap, dropped back, and hit Rusty Mandle for an apparent TD. However the Chiefs were detected pushing and the ball was brought out to the Corsair 20.

On the very next play Mandle took a handoff from Greg Mallare of left tackle 19 yards to the Mott one. On the next play Mallare, a junior reserve quarterback, went the final yard for the score with 15 seconds remaining in the contest, and Canton had their third win in five tries.

The third victory was also the most wins by a Canton team in the school's six year history. Schuele and the Chiefs hope to write another chapter Saturday night against the defending champs.

Harrison is in a "must win" situation after dropping a narrow decision to Livonia Churchill last week, and enters the game with a 4—1 record.

He's $25 richer

Wayne's Joe Savale(at right) says he likes to enter contests and because he picked 12 out of 12 games correctly last week he became The Associated Newspapers' Weekly Football Contest's initial winner. Not only did he pick all 12 games right, but Savale also predicted that Fordson would beat Wayne by a score of 21-7, coming the closest of two others who also had "perfect scores."Runnerup in last week's contest was Ed Bishop and Wayne Woodward was third - both are from Westland. Above, Savale receives a check for $25 and congratulations from ANP Sports Editor Tom Mooradian.

Vigna: 'They're a great team'

Franklin bows to North, 22-3

Before the start of the 1978 high school football season Livonia Franklin coach Armand Vigna said that North Farmington is the team to beat in the Northwest Suburban Conference.

Last Friday night, after North had won a hard-fought 22-3 victory from Vigna's Patriots, the veritable coach saw nothing to change his mind.

"They(North) are a great team," Vigna said. "They are as good as we were in 1975(when Franklin won the Class A state championship) and one of the elements that makes them so great is their over-all team speed.

"Not only are the backs fast, but the entire team is quick."

Franklin vacated the top of the standings with their first loss to North and Westland John Glenn. The two undefeated teams will settle their first place differences Friday night.

Franklin didn't roll over and die for the North jauggernaut, however. It made the undefeated Red Raiders sweat the entire first half.

North scored in the first quarter on a pass from quarterback Greg Goldstein to Ron Nutter which covered 10 yards and capped a 77-yard drive that ate up most of the time in the initial period.

Tim Quinn, whose older brother, Dan, earned all-state recognition while at Franklin and is presently starring for Wayne State, came through with the extra point conversion.

Franklin got on the board midway in the second quarter thanks to Andre Mondoux and Don Boka. Mondoux blocked a punt at the North 25 and the Patriots had to settle for a 41-yard field goal by Boka.

Boka's boot erased Quinn's record from the Patriots' books. Quinn had made good on a 39-yard attempt four years ago.

Still in the game at 7-3 after the intermission, what killed the Livonians were consecutive turnovers in the third quarter. They fumbled the first two times they had the ball and North turned one of those into an 8-point cushion.

At the Franklin 19 after one of those turnovers, Goldstein took four plays to score from the three yard line on a keeper.

Midway in the fourth quarter North wrapped up its scoring on a run by Mike Miller and Rich Nutter booted the extra point.

North held Franklin to a mere two first downs and a minus one yards in the second half. The Patriots had a total of 65 yards as compared to the Raiders' 345.

QB Jon McCarthy hit on one of four passes for seven yards but what tells the story in this game was that Franklin had the ball for 26 rushing plays as compared to North's 47.

"One thing I have to say about our team," noted Vigna, "is that they didn't blow us out of there. We felt we played a solid defensive game and though we gave up yardage they couldn't get the big ones on us and were forced to go for field goals(three unsuccessful tries).

Franklin will travel outside of the league this Friday and take on a 1-3 Pontiac Central and await the outcome of the North-Glenn game. If Glenn should burn the Raiders, Franklin would again appear in the title picture. The Patriots would have to beat the Westlanders the following week in order to get a third slice of the championship.

Romulus jolted, 20-0

Eagles gunned down by Flyers

It was one of those games that you feel you should win, but you lose.

And you lose it because of mistakes.

That's what happened last Friday as Romulus paid for a lackluster effort and an inspired Willow Run shut out their nonleague rivals, 20-0.

Coach Don Foley said that his team will go back "to the fundamentals and the basics of the game."

Foley and the Eagles have the weekend off to iron out the kinks and see if they can rebound and improve upon a 1-4 record. They'll return to the gridiron a week from Friday, taking on a respectable Oak Park team at Oak Park.

Inside the Willow Run 15 on three separate occasions, the Eagles sputters and died where they had the chances. And Willow Run made good use of Romulus' misguided missiles as they picked off five interceptions and caused a fumble.

"Six turnovers in one game - that's what happened to us," said Foley, "and that's why we have a lot of work ahead of us. I felt we were equally matched before the game. Obviously I was mistaken."

Willow Run got on the scoreboard in the first quarter and held a 6-0 halftime lead until early in the third when they increased that margin to 12-zip. The Flyers put it away with eight more points in the final quarter.

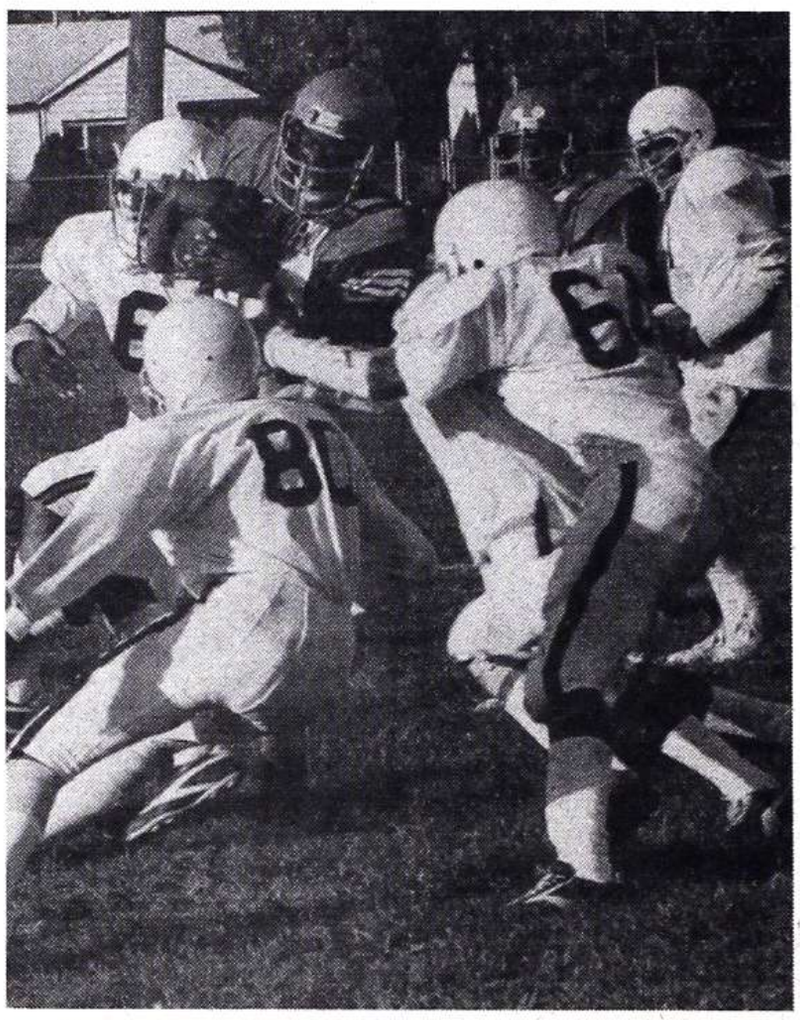
The statistics however are deceptive. Though the Eagles had one of their best offensive games, they failed to get on the board. They picked up 10 first downs, 148 rushing yards and 58 by the air routes for a total of 206, as compared to the Flyers' 14 first downs, 383 total yards and 256 rushing yardage.

One of the bright spots for the Eagles was the all-around performance of John Kersey who recovered a second quarter fumble and made several good receptions. He also had five tackles and eight assists.

Richard Lewis, though, was the leading Romulus rusher. He compiled 100 of the 148 yards posted by the Eagle ballcarriers on 18 attempts.

Quarterback Mike Brooks, who had a rough night, connected on three passes to Kersey, but the five interceptions helped lead to his team's demise.

Les Bergesasy led the defense with 10 solo tackles and 15 assists, his best evening thus far this season.



Back to SAC wars

At the end of an across-the-state jaunt, Dearborn Heights Robichaud dropped a nonleague duel with Muskegon Heights, but the undefeated Suburban Athletic Conference football leaders have the inside track on the championship in the league if they can erase Highland Park from their paths. Coach Bob Yauck's Bulldogs will travel to Highland Park on Saturday for the showdown which will determine who'll wear the crown. Above, in an earlier game against Inkster, Robichaud picked up a 12-0 victory.

Fordson is Wayne's 1st league cage test

Off to a slow start, Wayne has managed to win its last two games, evening up their record at 3-3 in the season. Their latest victim was Ypsilanti who bowed to the Zebras 63-50.

Schwartz has moved Theresa Callegari from junior varsity to varsity and the 15-year-old sophomore has contributed nine points in each of her outings.

Ypsilanti rallied from a 13-4 first period deficit to take the lead 25-24 with seconds left in the first half, but Peggy Stevens' jump shot lifted the Zebras ahead 26-25 and Wayne never relinguished the lead again. They went on to outscore their nonleague rivals 13-9 and 24-14 in the last two periods.

Three Wayne players - Beth Tracy, Kim Mason and Miss Stevens - reached the double figure scoring column. Tracy had 13, while Mason chipped in 12 and Stevens sank 11.

Wayne lost a thriller to Edsel Ford 59-48 as the T-Birds erupted in the last three minutes to break open what was a close game. The winners had a mere one point edge until then. Tracy and Kim Schwartz split 28 points between them.

In an earlier contest, Wayne turned back Dearborn Heights Annapolis 56-45 as Mason scored 14. She also collected 10 points in a 54-39 victory over Livonia Franklin.

Wayne will launch its Great Lakes 8 Conference season Tuesday night at 6 p.m. hosting Fordson, a team that has its eyes on the conference championship.

"We're looking better with each game," pointed out Schwartz. "We're young and need experience and when we do we're going to be tough."

emerge as the team to beat in the league."

Against Thurston, Franklin's Dave Dawson led the "slam" as he covered the three-mile rain-soaked course in 17:02. Teammates Paul Colburn(17:02), Mark Olsenki(17:14), Greg Lucas(17:24) followeed their leader across the finish line. Reich posted an identical time with that of three other Franklin runners ---Jeff Bristow, Jeff Masharka and Chuck Jennett who were involved in the dead heat for fifth.

Since the league counts the dual meet won-lost record, it is important for the Livonians to come away from Oakland with a victory. A setback would force them up against the wall where they would have to finish ahead of North at the conference championships to win a share of the title.

Wayne gridders win a big one for fans

Zebras will meet league-leader Monroe Friday night

Friday night when they challenge Monroe for league supremacy. With one loss on their record, Wayne can't afford to lose and hope to salvage a championship. Monroe, which will have its homecoming crowd handy, needs the victory for a cushion against both Wayne and Fordson.

"They're a very good ball team," commented Carter. "They are big and strong and they have an excellent quarterback, so they are able to do things now that they couldn't in the past."

Wayne erupted for two touchdowns in the second quarter and made them stand up for a 12-0 halftime margin. Korte put together a 13-play, 80-yard drive after Lincoln Park failed to connect on a 22-yard field goal.

In that drive, senior tailback Ed Turbeville was the mainstay of the attack. Korte also connected on a pair of key third down passes, one to Donald Schumpert that moved the Zebras to the LP 45 and another to Mike Blair who was stopped on the eight. An offside penalty against the visitors moved the host to the three where after Rick Rogers and Turbeville were given opportunities to crash the line, Korte eventually scored on an end around sprint.

Then, with 7:15 left in the second period, Skip Walker booted the extra point, making it a 7-0 ballgame.

The Railsplitters didn't do much with the ball after the ensuing kickoff, in fact, they managed to surrender it after a fragile 8-yard punt that gave Wayne possession of the ball deep in enemy territory.

On the LP 34, Turbeville picked up nine yards on the first try from scrimmage, but a penalty put the Zebras back to the LP 36. Korte then tried a pass which failed and on a third down and 12 situation, the senior QB slipped through 29 and picked up a first down on the next play went he broke through to the 19.

A pass to Schumpert moved the ball down to the LP three and a pitch to Blair got the Zebras to the one where Korte sneaked over for a touchdown with 2:12 left in the quarter.

Wayne elected to go for the two-point conversion but the pass didn't find the receiver.

Wayne missed a chance to get its third TD of the quarter after another poor Lincoln Park punt which went a total of 10 yards. With 22 seconds remaining, Korte immediately went to the air and a pass to Blair was incomplete and his second attempt was intercepted, erasing the threat.

Lincoln Park refused to give up. The Railsplitters came back in the third quarter and kept the outcome in doubt when quarterback Steve Ciarino teamed on a couple of pass plays with Bill King and Ross Cheek.

Cheek hauled in a 29-yard aerial over the head of Wayne defenders anmd scored with 8:47 showing on the close and Wally Antovski's point-after made it 12-7.

Wayne threatened in its next series after the ensuing kickoff with Korte hooking up with Turbeville on a 41-yard pass which manauevered them to the LP 26 where, after Rogers picked up six, the Railsplitters held. With 4:57 left in the third quarter, Wayne gave up the ball on a punt to the LP 17. Ciarlino went to the air and got the benefit of a pass interference call which moved the team to their own 33.

Ciarlino controlled the game for the next 13 plays as he used runningback Randy Webber and halfback Paul Szatkowski effectively. Szatkowski gave the visitors a first down on a fourth and one situation at the Wayne 26, but a key defensive play by Emery Biggerstaff who nailed Davis at the 25 forced LP in a third down and 10 situation as the quarter ended.

On the first play of the last quarter, Ciarino hit Cheek again and this time the receiver got to the six before he was tackled. The Wayne defense, thanks to Dave Lusk, Gary Duplessis and Biggerstaff, again held and five plays later Lincoln Park found itself back on their own 31 where they gave up the ball after an incomplete pass.

The visitors got the ball back after four uneventually Wayne plays and took posssession at midfield. Ciarino was instrumental in moving his teammates to the Wayne 18 but that's the furthest they got as a holding penalty left them at the 33 where they tried the old fake goal play and Bill Wilson broke up a passing play.

With 5:43 left, the now desperate Parkers sent 11 men to the line in hopes of recovering the ball, but Korte pulled a surprise in the form of a 60-yard touchdown sprint which gave Wayne an 18-7 lead and some breathing room.

Lincoln Park didn't roll over and die, to use the cliche. With 3:03 left, King nabbed a 28-yard pass and strolled into the end zone for their second TD and a pass to Cheek accounted for a two-point conversion, making it anyone's ball game at 18-15.

Korte killed the Railsplitters in the next series as he took the team from their own 43 to the Lincoln Park 10 in seven plays thanks to Turbeville's aggressive ballcarrying. At the 10, Korte and Blair teamed up for Wayne's final TD, a pass.

Wayne chose to go for the two-point conversion after an offside penalty and missed and with seconds to go they had moved ahead 24-15.

Korte, who turned in his best performance of the season, scored three TDs and threw for another. He chalked up 91 yards in eight carries, while Turbeville had 75 of the Zebras' 301 total yards on 15 attempts. Rogers settled for 28 yards in eight tries.

Korte also hit on six of 13 passes, with one interception, for an additional 71 yards.

Lincoln Park, though, had the edge in first downs, 13-9.

Romulus touch gridders get down to business

Michigan Contractors played Chilcote Aluminum in the first game Sunday of the Romulus touch football league.

Both teams came into the game undefeated.

Neither team scored in the first quarter, however, in the second, both offences took over.

Dave Poczewski led Chilcote Aluminum to the first touchdown of the game as he capped a drive with a nine yard pass to A-t Lannigan, the extra point to Eaton was good and Chilcote Aluminum led 8 - 0.

It didn't take Michigan Contractors long to get back into the game as Sterling hit Mich McMann with a touchdown pass 6:50 into the second quarter, the extra point missed to make it 8 - 6.

Poczewski again spurred the offence for Chilcote Aluminum with a 15 yard touchdown pass to Bowan to up the count to 14 - 6.

Then with the Aluminum team marching again down the field, a pass interception by Bob Grable, with ten seconds left in the half.

Grable returned the play 90 yards for a touchdown. The extra point to DeBuysscher was good, the score tied at 14 - 14.

In the third quarter, Sterling hit Tom Stergis with a five yard pass. The extra point failed, but Michigan Contractors led 20 - 14.

In the fourth quarter, Poczewski used some outstanding passing and receiving by Loran Chilcote to keep the drive alive. Finally capping the drive with a 1 yard pass to Bowan. Bowan also caught the key extra points. Chilcote Aluminum held on for an exciting 22 - 20 win.

The first half of this ball game was controlled definitely by the defenses. Neither team had many scoring chances until late in the first half. In fact, there was only 21 seconds left in the half when Doug Cheedie hit Gary Lansky with a ten yard pass.

The extra point failed and the half ended 6 - 0 for Lambarts.

Both teams moved the ball more consistantly in the third quarter, but it wasn't until Jim Tramier hit Jim Ferrari with a 37 yard scoring strike and then Andy Fabian got the extra points to put Walters Bar-Crossroads Auto ahead at the end of three quarters 8 - 6.

The fourth quarter belonged entirely to Walters Bar-Crossroads Auto as Jim Tramier to Jim Ferrari connected for a 28 yard touchdown pass. Scott Brown got the extra points to put Walters Bar-Crossroads Auto ahead 16 - 6. With sixty one seconds left, T-amier hit Ron Bostich with a 25 yard touchdown to round out the scoring 22 - 6.

In the third game, Ye Old Mustache took on Hull Brothers. At 7:44 of the first quarter, Mark Stevens hit Rick Bessega with an 18 yard touchdown pass, Bessega making a super catch. Ollie Metaj got the extra points. Ye Old Mustache led 8 - 0 at the quarter.

It didn't take Stevens long to find his favorite receiver in the second quarter. At 1:32 Stevens to Bessiga to make the score 14 - 0. With 1:00 to go in the half, John Hull tired to get his team on the board, but his hand was hit and Al Gu-zo intercepted the ball and went untouched into the end zone. Bill Douglas got the extra point to make the score 22 - 0 at the half.

The third quarter belonged to Ye Old Mustache with Stevens hitting Joe Antoraggo with a 29 yard strike. Antonaggo added the points after to mount the score to 30 - 0 at the end of three quarters.

Stevens hit Bill Douglas with the final touchdown of the game on the last play to run the final score to 36 - 0 for Ye Old Mustache. Ye Old Mustache's record is 2 - 0.

A heritage of uncompromising quality.

Romulus cage team shoots down Flyers

With high-scoring Chandra Brown scoring 12 of her game high 26 points in the last period, Romulus rallied past Willow Run 57-53 in a nonleague girls' basketball game last week.

It was the Eagles' second victory in five starts this season and Coach Mary Sharpe feels her chargers are progressing on schedule.

"We're beginning to work as a team," said the first year Romulus coach. "Our girls have come of age the last two games."

The Flyers managed to establish a 15-5 first period lead over the jittery Eagles, but the winners recovered their poise and came back to within six of tying it at halftime (25-19). However, though Romulus trailed by eight going into the final period when Miss Brown came alive and sank 12 points to help erase the deficit.

Along with Miss Brown, who has been the top scorer for Romulus in all five of their games, Bridget Hearst also was in double figures against the Flyers. She scored 15.

Romulus lost to Belleville in their opener 37-24, and fell to New Boston Huron 39-34, while beating Ypsilanti Lincoln 40-24. They also dropped a 43-37 game to Riverview before rallying for their second win at the expense of Willow Run.

Soccer is well and alive in Westland

Though the Pontiac Silverdome is the hub of professional soccer in these parts, Westland is getting a lot attention as the mecca of young players thanks to programs set up by the local YMCA and devoted volunteer coaching staffs. Above, some of the players registered in the Westland leagues brush up on the fundamentals.

YMCA director says:

Soccer is like a magnet drawing kids together...

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

In the summer, it's baseball; in the fall - football and winter, it's basketball, swimming and wrestling.

Right - that's tradition.

Wrong.

The Wayne-Westland YMCA and Westlanders are adding a new dimension to athletic competition in the area - they have successfully introduced soccer to the youngsters and it has caught on like a brush fire.

One of the reasons why soccer is so popular is that it not only attracts all sizes of players - anyone can play - but it also is relatively inexpensive to play," said Martin Will, program director at the YMCA. "We presently have 12 teams who compete in league competition where there are more than 200 teams made up of players in various age brackets."

Will pointed out that the recent success of the Detroit Express has helped the renaisance of soccer not only in Westland and the area but across the state. He said unlike the previous pro teams, the Express, is very public relations' minded.

"They will send their players into an area for clinics and introduce the youngsters with the fundamentals of the sport," Will added. "You have to be impressed by what they have accomplished and their influence on the youngsters."

The 26-year-old Will, who is a native of Hastings, Michigan and a Central Michigan University graduate, lettered in football and track. He credited the success of the local leagues to "a hard core of volunteers who devote their time to the kids and the program."

"This isn't a one man success story," said Will. "These voluneers put in a lot of time to work with our kids and it's paying off.

"And there is one uniqueness to our program, that is, that the participant is guaranteed to play at least a half of the game and we play a stress on participation and developing skills."

Because the league season extends from April to November, is there a conflict between soccer and the tradition summer sports of baseball and football?

"Not really," Will said. "There may be some parents who would like their kids to play little league football, but we have an influx of Middle Eastern, Greeks and English in this area and soccer is a magnet drawing them together - it's really interesting to see how these differenmt ethnic groups interact in a sport that traditionally is European and is really catching on now here in America because of the pro teams and the Olympic Games."

'If you haven't see a soccer game, you are really missing a lot," Will added.

That should fill up the place — if anything does.

It will also be a baptismal of sorts for the new recreation facility which only recently opened its doors.

Ticket information? Your best bet is to contact the Boys Club or pick them up at the door the night of the game.

IAOO on drawing board

Another interesting note out of Inkster comes from "the retired" Booker Dozier who says he and a few of his colleagues would like to organize an Inkster Athletic Officiating Organization.

Dozier, who worked for the recreation department 27 years before retiring last week, said the group would be responsible for training officials for athletic competition in the area and this would include all major sports.

"We'd like those who are interested to come to an organizational meeting," Dozier said. "I feel that the area needs such a group and the time is ripe to form an organization for that purpose."

The initial meeting will be held at 2 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 22 at the Inkster Recreation Complex, 2025 Middlebelt and for further information contact the recreation department at 728-7530.

He didn't listen to his wife

On another subject, Wayne's Joe Savale is $25 richer because he didn't heed his wife's advice, (and that's dangerous, Joe). Savale became the first week winner in The Associated Newspapers' weekly football contest, having picked all 12 games correctly.

"My wife says I shouldn't enter these contests because they are a waste of time," said Savale who dropped by to pick up his reward. "But I like contests and I'll enter anything that I feel I have a chance to win."

Not only did Savale select the 12 winners, but he came very close to picking the score of the tie-breaker (Wayne-Fordson) game. He picked Fordson 21-7 and the Tractors handed the local gridders their first setback, 28-15.

Don't be surprised if you see Savale's name in this section a couple of more times before the contest is finished. He should be on our Prep Prediction Panel.

Two others — Westlanders Ed Bishop and Wayne Woodward — all picked all 12 games correctly, however, they finished second and third, respectively, because of the tie-breaker rule.

And, in the future would all contestants please write the SCORE of the tie-breaker and not the total points between the two teams.

Turkey shoot for benefit

And the Belleville Lions Club has asked me to remind you that there will be a "Shot Gun Turkey Shoot" each Sunday through November 5 to help raise funds for the club's various worthwhile projects.

"With fall comes the hunting season," said Bob Fowler,(no relative to the basketball player), "and a lot of us don't have the desire or the ambition to tramp through the woods looking for game to bring home. Also, the thought of cleaning and preparing game turns off some people.

"So we're offering the solution — to take part in the Turkey shoot for a good cause," said Fowler.

Each shooter will be allowed to shoot at his or her target and the one with the best shot wins a frozen turkey. Only12, 16, and 22 guage shotguns will be permitted and the shells will be provided by the Lions Club at $2 per round.

Other events will be held and the winners can literally bring home the bacon,(that's ham).

The shoot will be held south of Belleville and if you're interested follow Sumpter Road south to Harris Road, turn right, go to the end of Harris Road to Lohr, look straight ahead.

And I always thought the Lion followed the "Yellow Brick Road."

Defending champs run to catch Franklin

Beaten by Livonia Franklin earlier in the season, Westland John Glenn, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference cross country champ, is making up for lost time.

Coach Jerry Szukiatis' Rockets have come back from their opening league loss and trimmed Garden City East 21-35 and dumped Redford Union 18-38. Redford Union, with the exception of its football teams, has dropped out of the Suburban 8 and has joined the ranks of the Northwest.

"We have been improving over the past few weeks," said the Glenn mentor, "but we still lack depth which can hurt anyone in cross country."

Glenn traveled North to Alpena last weekend to compete in the annual Alpena Optimist Invitational. The Westlanders, traditionally a power in that powerladen invitational, found the northerns ready this year and had to settle for a sevcenth place team finish among the nine entries.

However, Westlander Jim Kanclerz earned a berth on the all-invitational team by finishing sixth with a time of 15:51.

"It had rained for 10 consecutive days," said Szukaitis, "and the course was knee-deep in mud. The times were obviously very slow and fortunately no one was injured.

"But, I must say that they run an excellent meet up there."

Glenn's other finishers included Cory Gielinski who was 31st; Tom Andrews, 34; Paul Stephens, 38; and Chuck Honaker, 42.

Bridgeport's Ed Gray captured the first place medal as he toured the three-mile course in 15:22.

Flint Kearsley, with 73 points, won the invitational.

Glenn returns to the league trails Thursday afternoon at 4 when it takes on Thurston at Cass Benton Park. On Tuesday the Rockets competed in the Redford Invitational.

Meanwhile, Robichaud continues to dominate the Suburban Athletic Conference as Coach Jim Hadley's Bulldogs won their fifth consecutive league meet 19½-42½ over River Rouge.

The Dearborn Heights harriers have Highland Park on their menu for Thursday and aren't expected to encounter and problems from the twice-defeated Colts.

One of Hadley's major concerns is that is depth - the lack of it.

"We have what I consider the best team in this school's history, but we might not qualify for the state because we can't find a fifth man," said Hadley. "I hope one of our kids devcelops before the regionals."

In their impressive victory over Rouge, Robichaud's Terry Ross and Rouge's Steve Crutchfield were involved in a "dead heat" for first after both runners were clocked in 16:12.

Robichaud's No.1 man, Bruce Brock, was forced to the sidelines for this meet because of illness.

The Bulldogs swept the third through seventh spots thanks to William Rigsby(17:23), Mike Drazga(17:28), George Drayton(19:20), Art Chambers(19:27) and Mark McCall(20:07). Marty English finished ninth for the Bulldogs.

In their 18-37 triumph over previously undefeated Ecorse, Brock broke his own record in placing first with a time of 15:37. Ross followed his teammate over the finish line and turned in a 15:45 performance while Drazga was third, Rigsby, fourth and Drayton finished in a dead heat with Mark McCall and Camallie Swasey for eight place.

Gym nite

Beginning October 23, the Westland Parks and Recreation Department will offer a "gym night" for men and women, 18 and over and out of high school.

The once-a-week program will enable participants to play basketball(men(and volleyball(women) and there also will be other athletic activities.

Interested persons should telephone the parks and recreation department (261-7030) for more information.

Wayne netters shut out Taylor Center

Taylor Center was just what the doctor ordered for a young and inexperienced Wayne Memorial girls' tennis team that put the brakes on a losing skid, 7-0.

The victory was Wayne's third in 10 starts and the first in the Great Lakes 8 Conference.

"Graduation wiped out most of our experience players," pointed out Coach Jack Armstrong, "so we're rebuilding this team around a nucleus of several impressive juniors and sophomores.

"If we continue to improve the way we are," Armstrong continued, "I feel in the next two years we will have a very competitive team."

Wayne will get some regional competition experience this weekend when the Zebras will travel to Ann Arbor Pioneer High School.

In order to qualify for the state, a team must either win or finish second at the regional. Individuals may qualify by winning the No.1 singles competition.

Tigers

Belleville's lone TD. Quarterback Tim Ellsworth used up 14 plays and polished off the midfield drive with a 23-yard touchdown pass to Dave Cook. However, that was nullified because of clipping.

The Tigers tried again and a pass interference against Dearborn brought the local gridders to the two where Ellsworth went in for the TD.

Jim Kause converted for the pointafter.

Barry Reddick was the mainstay of the Tiger offensive attack as he accounted for 67 yards in 20 rushes and Cook, a linebacker, counted six primary tackles and six assists. Vince Peeks, a 6-2, 220-pound transfer from St. Martin DePorres, was another bright star in the Belleville defensive alignment.

With 12 first downs and 224 yards total, Stokes felt he should have received more for his money.

"But we have one TD to show for all of that work," he said, "and you have to be disappointed. We thought we had improved on offense these past couple of week, but, obviously, we need a lot of more work.

The game starts at 8 p.m. Glenn High School is locatedon Marquette Street, one-half mile south of Ford Roac and one-quarter mile west of Wayne Road, in Westland.

If it's of any significance, John Glenn has played twice on the elevised high school game of the week and won both times. Chuck Gordon would be in seventh heaven with a similar outcome Friday night.

Wayne-Westland 'Over 30' hockey teams begin action

They're off and skating in the Wayne-Westland Over 30 Hockey League.

And defending champ, Extra Point Bar, started the 1978 campaign where it left off a year ago - with an impressive 6-1 victory over Huron Valley Total who drew the dubious honor of meeting the champ for the opener.

The champs tallied two goals in each period and were never threatened by the challenger who avoided the shutout with a third period goal by Barry Anderson.

Anderson's goal robbed Ron Mullendere of an opening night shutout. Meanwhile, Larry Karfesh and Terry Carley led the winner's attack with a pair of goals while Rich Muller and Ken Beal chipped in with one apiece.

Tom Stanke got Jack's Sporting Goods got off to an auspicious start a tossed aside several good shots to help blank Four Seasons, 3-0. Three separate skaters scored for Jacks - John Kunz, Paul Cramer and Jerry Robertson.

Tastee Freez provided the first thriller of the opening night as they roared from a 2-0 deficit to overcome Johnson Carbonic and edge their rivals 3-2.

A breakway goal by Lee Callaway with 10 minutes left in the game proved to be the decisive goal. Callaway had scored earlier and Dan Droz had the other goal for the winners.

In another thriller, Futurama Engineering fired a goal with 14 seconds left on the clock to tie Brock Homes 3-3 in their initial confrontation of the season.

Brock's had two men sitting it out in the penalty box when their rivals scored the equalizer. Don Middaugh, who scored the tying goal, had two for the evening with Tom Bryan's also getting a goal.

Rod Dittmar, George Motts and Dave Fishwich tallied for Broch's.

Games in the Over 30 League are played at the Wayne Arena and the Westland Multi-Purpose Building and hockey fans are invited free of charge. All games are played Sunday night.

The October 15 schedule includes Huron Valley clashing with Four Seasons at 6:30 p.m., while Futurama is matched with Jack's at 8 p.m. Both games are in Westland.

At the Wayne Arena, Extra Point goes after its second victory at 9 p.m. against Tastee Freez and at 10:30 p.m., Brock Homes will entertain Johnson Carbonic.

Hunter safety clinic, anyone?

Those falling leaves also mean that the hunting season is here.

And to get in shape, the Department of Natural Resources is sponsoring a "Hunter's Safety Clinic" this weekend, with registration scheduled for 9:30 to 10 a.m. on Saturday.

The two-day clinic will stress gun safety and will be conducted by Burt Girardin, deputy conservation officer.

The site of the clinic is the Winchester Public Shooting range, south of Rockwood on Jefferson Ave. in South Rockwood, north of Huron River Drive.

Girardin said that participants will be supplied shotguns and ammunition for free, however, there is a $2 registration fee.

MANY HAPPY RETURNS

A yo-yo wouldn't be much fun if every time you threw it out it just kind of hung there. Getting it to come back each time takes a little skill and a lot of practice . . . but that's where the fun comes in!

Advertising is a lot like a yo-yo . . . when you put something out, you want something to come back to you. You want a return on your investment. This is where the Classified Ads come in. Of all the different "yo-yos" in the advertising business, these little son-of-a-guns have been returning more results for less money than any of the others for years and years!

Whether you're a homemaker, a businessman, a student or taking life easy as a retiree, you can put a Classified Ad to work for you . . . and you'll know that when you "toss" it out to all of our readers, you can count on the results to come spinning back to you!

The first pins were thorns and sharp fishbones used by early people to hold together their garments of animal skins. Pins probably were handmade until 1824. Mass production did not begin until 1877 when the first machine was invented to make them automatically. It's easy to fasten on to some pin money, when you use Classified Ads to get extra cash.
